COX HEADS FIGHT ON G. O. P.

REPUBLICANS HOLD SKIRTS ARE CLEAN

Claim Country on Road to Recovery from Wilson's Policies

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Democrats are seeking to make "hard times"—the prevailing financial, industrial and agricultural conditions—the big issue of the congressional campaign, which is getting underway as the first year of Harding's administration closes today.

Republicans are putting forward the administration's achievements as the main issue, notably the Washington arms conference with its prospective heavy saving in naval expenditures.

Other important issues which are rapidly developing and which probably will confront the voters at the polls are:

The soldier bonus.

The action of the senate in seating Senator Newberry.

The proposed ship subsidy.

Amendment of the Volstead law to permit manufacture and sale of light wines and beer.

Former Governor James M. Cox, the Democratic presidential candidate in 1920, who plans to take an active part in the congressional campaigns in Ohio and Massachusetts, where he will seek to bring about the defeat of Senator Lodge, indicated here today he believes present business conditions will be the chief campaign issue.

Blames Republicans

He blames the international policies of the Republicans during the Versailles treaty for the present situation.

"It is the economic consequence of hermitage," he said.

Specifically, the Democrats will allege that the Republicans have failed to reduce taxes appreciably, have not brought about governmental economy, have neglected the farmer and left him to face ruin, have so disorganized and demoralized business that millions are unemployed.

Republicans Answer

The Republican answer is simply that the Democrats left the G. O. P. highly inflated business, hugely swollen governmental expenditures, a false prosperity, a country at war with other countries, and that the Republicans have restored peace, have made great strides towards restoration of normal business conditions through necessary re-adjustments; have relieved business and the general public of war taxation, have enacted more farm legislation than was ever passed before, and have worked out a great international peace plan which will reduce governmental expenditures and taxes.

MAURICE IS TO DO TALKING NEXT TIME

NEW YORK, March 3.—Because Maurice Herschowitz let a $600 diamond solitaire do all the talking, he found himself facing his supposed fiancée Miss Sadie Nudelman, across the bar in Justice Caffrey's courtroom. He wanted the ring back, he said, since Miss Nudelman threatened to have her big brother throw him out, when he finally got his courage up to the point of asking her to name the day.

Miss Nudelman testified she had regarded Herschowitz's mute presentation at its face value—a mere gift and nothing more.

"Do you want this precious stone or this precious girl?" inquired Justice Caffrey, indicating the two treasures.

"The girl," Herschowitz gulped. "And you?" asked the justice, turning to Miss Nudelman.

"Well—I'll have to think it over," she said.

Justice Caffrey gave her the romantic months of spring—until June 25, to be exact—to say whether she would accept the ring with what he held was its implied bondage.

SUGAR PRICES JUMP

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—The price of sugar was increased ten cents per hundred pounds wholesale in San Francisco today. The new prices are $5.60 for cane and $5.40 for beet.

Here's Blows Jeffries Will Use In Pulpit Bout With Sin

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—Evangelist James J. Jeffries uses these verbal jolts to knock Satan out of sinners: "A man will get to Heaven if he knows where he's going and bends every energy to get there."

"God doesn't ban tobacco or condemn a man for using bad language."

"But the tobacco stained soul and the profane heart won't escape at the judgment seat."

SUNDAY SAYS SATAN FACES HARD BATTLE

Noted Evangelist Praises Jim Jeffries; Says Former Ring Idol Will Knockout Sin.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 3.—"He'll knock the devil out of sinners," Billy Sunday declared today in welcoming Jim Jeffries, former heavyweight champion, as a rival.

"I'm for him," declared Billy. "He used to knock 'em cold in the square ring and I'll stake my reputation he'll knock the devil out of sinners on the platform."

"If Jeffries can hit the devil as hard as he hit his opponents in the ring, Satan will be sorry he ever left the pugilistic field for evangelism."

"I'm no crank on tobacco, either. Some folks will get to heaven who smoke, but I don't agree with Jeffries' stand on wines."

British Premier Defeats Foes In Political Clash

LONDON, March 3.—Lloyd George has weathered another political crisis.

"Die hard" in the Unionist ranks, who would have forced the resignation of the premier, or a general election, were checked by leaders of the conservative party at stormy meetings which lasted until early today.

Arthur Balfour is understood to have used his influence, heightened by his achievements at Washington, to aid Lloyd George.

An announcement at Oxford university tonight by Austen Chamberlain, leader of the Unionists, was expected to declare the party's confidence in the premier.

AVERY RESIGNS AS SOU. CAL. DRY HEAD

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—Special Agent F. A. Hazeltine was today in charge of prohibition enforcement work in Southern California, succeeding Robert A. Avery, who resigned in a wire to Washington last night.

BEAR VALLEY HAS ITS COLDEST WINTER

REDLANDS, March 3.—For the first time in many months Big Bear Lake has been frozen solid from one end to the other. Charles Stone and Guy Daniels have just returned from a trip to the valley and they were told that a few days ago it was possible to walk from one end of the lake to the other on ice and to step from the ice to the top of the dam.

It has been the coldest winter in many years in Bear Valley, which is but twenty-eight miles from Redlands. The mercury there has been as low as 18 below zero this winter. The water of the lake is now within a few yards of the Big Bear Tavern.

Working Girls Hoot Black They Can Dress On $87.55 Per Year

(United Press Leased Wire)

TOPEKA, Kas., March 3.—Working girls of Kansas cannot dress on $87.55 a year and get along without garters, hair pins and cosmetics.

This was the element of comedy thrown into the minimum wage fight for P. W. G.'s before the Kansas industrial court here today following the dramatic storming of two department stores here late yesterday by about 200 girls who were angered by testimony of Miss Nell Berger, a witness for employers, who said before the court that working girls could dress that way.

The P. W. G. "riot" grew out of the minimum wage hearings which the industrial court is holding throughout the state to determine whether the minimum wage for women shouldn't be raised to $18.50 a week, the sum the welfare department of the court holds is a bare living wage.

Miss Berger declared a P. W.

JEFFRIES TELLS PLAN FOR BOUT AGAINST SIN IN PULPIT

BY FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
(Copyright 1922 by the United Press)

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—In this corner Jim Jeffries; in the other corner, Satan, the Styx club K. O. Kid. To a finish!

This is the great bout for which James J. Jeffries, former heavyweight champion prizefighter of the world, is in training.

When Jeff becomes a preacher and steps into the ring for Jehovah he will have an entirely new brand of religion for America, he told the United Press today.

"My God is a reasonable God," explained the old champion, carefully. "He doesn't care so much what route a man takes to Heaven, so long as he knows where he is going and is bending every effort to get there."

Expounds His Gospel

Jeff—once known as the California grizzly, who in his time stood under the glare of the ring lights and saw mighty Bob Fitzsimmons and crafty Jim Corbett fall senseless from his blows—expounded his gospel slowly and carefully, weighing his words.

"God isn't petty," said Jeff. "He's great and just. He'll take everything into consideration on judgment day."

"He doesn't condemn wines and liquors—it's the drunkards he condemns. He doesn't put the ban on tobacco and he doesn't think profane language is a cardinal sin."

Those are all trivial points of human nature. As long as they remain trivial they'll be relatively small on judgment day although some people manage to get a gigantic perspective on some one individual point.

Scans Heart and Soul

"It's the tobacco stained soul, the profane heart, that God's not going to pass when you come before the judgment seat on the last day."

Jeff paused a moment before scoring his verbal points and then smashed them over with a flash in his eye as if he were swinging rights and lefts to the jaw.

"God sees you as you are; not as you appear to be on the surface, and you're going to receive judgment accordingly."

There is no hope for gilded sinners Jeff made clear. Those who are black inside but put up a religious front might as well get ready to go to Hell right away.

Son of Preacher

The old champion, whose last fight was with Johnson in 1910, said he hadn't got "religion" suddenly. He has been interested in the Bible for many years, he said. His father was a preacher.

Even when he was running a saloon on Spring street, standing up to the bar drinking his own beer, he was thinking about the hereafter. He got more and more interested as he watched his friend, A. F. Futterer, Bible student, writing a book of Bible commentaries, he said. Now he's figuring on hitting the sawdust trail to the pulpit in about three months. He's worth about $1,200,000, but he's selling the blooded stock on his Burbank ranch, apparently getting his business affairs in shape to "fight the devil from God's corner."

PASS DEFICIENCY BILL

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The house late today passed and sent to the senate by a vote of 58 to 2 a deficiency appropriation bill carrying approximately $108,000,000 for government expenses.

Police Admit Failure in Hunt for Taylor's Slayer

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—With every available clue exhausted, police headquarters and the sheriff's office working on the William D. Taylor murder mystery admitted they were at a standstill today.

Failure to obtain any corroborative evidence from persons questioned about the remarkable story of Mrs. John Rupp, alias May Lynch, in which she accused two men held at Central police station as the slayers, led Detective Sergeant Herman Cline, in charge of this phase of the murder case, to dismiss her account as largely fictitious.

District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine stated today that no new information that has any important bearing on the "movie murder" has come into his hands, although hundreds of letters have been received and scores of persons interviewed.

At the end of thirty days of intensive work on the murder, it remains what it was on February 2, a baffling mystery and "the perfect crime."

OKLAHOMA GOVERNOR IN FISTIC BOUT AT BANK FAILURE QUIZ

(United Press Leased Wire.)

OKMULKEE, Okla., March 3. A fist fight between Governor J. B. A. Robertson of Oklahoma and James G. Lyons, Okmulkee oil operator, today climaxed the stormy grand jury probe of the Okmulkee state bank failures scandal.

County Attorney Hepburn placed the governor and Lyons under arrest following the fight. He asked the governor if he wished to prosecute Lyons. The governor replied that he did not. He put the same question to Lyons and Lyons answered that he did not. Hepburn then ordered charges against both of them dismissed.

Robertson, who had previously declared he understood "an attempt is being made to indict me," had personally demanded of County Attorney Hepburn, prosecutor in the probe, that he be allowed to testify.

The encounter occurred when friends of the governor sought to introduce him to Lyons. The governor extended his hand. Lyons shot his fist forward, striking the governor in the face, according to witnesses.

"I am a man," the governor was heard to remark as he retaliated by sending a blow to Lyons' head. Then members of the crowd seized and separated them. Neither bore any marks of the battle.

Lyons was a depositor in the defunct Guaranty State bank which was being investigated by the grand jury. The tension which was developed here on account of rumors from the grand jury room that indictments were about to be returned against "high state officials," was greatly heightened as the result of the fight.

The governor's request that he be summoned before the grand jury to testify concerning state bank failures has been taken under advisement by Hepburn and the foreman of the jury.

MRS. CUSHMAN IS PARENTS OF BOY SUCCESSFUL IN BAR EXAMS

Marking the culmination of four years of determined study, for the most part unassisted, Mrs. Clara R. Cushman, wife of Dr. R. A. Cushman, prominent physician of Santa Ana, has passed the state bar examinations.

Arrival of the news today from Los Angeles, where the office of the state supreme court received word of the outcome of the examinations by the state board of bar examiners there January 16, 17 and 18, was the signal for the many friends of Mrs. Cushman to shower her with congratulations.

At the same time, it was learned that two other Santa Anans, who, like Mrs. Cushman, are graduates of the Santa Ana high school, had successfully passed the state examinations. They are Paul H. Bruns, son of John Bruns, 2130 North Broadway, and Henry E. Poyet.

"Naturally, I am more than pleased over having been successful in the examinations," said Mrs. Cushman.

Will Practice Here

"I intend to practice in Santa Ana," she continued. "It will be about a month before I am formally admitted to the bar, but as soon as this transpires I will get right into 'the game.'"

"I appreciate deeply the kindness of the attorneys of Santa Ana who have assisted me in every way they could and who have loaned me their law books to study."

There is one man in Santa Ana who is perhaps even more pleased over Mrs. Cushman's success than she is herself, and that is Dr. Cushman. "She dug it all out by herself," Dr. Cushman said. "All the time she has been studying during the past four years she has been right in my office, acting as my secretary, except during the past year, when she passed much of her time in Los Angeles, taking a special law course at the University of California, southern branch.

Unique Distinction

"So far as I know, Mrs. Cushman is the only woman in Orange county who has passed the state bar examinations. There was a woman at Orange who passed them, but she no longer was a resident."

PREDICTS TRIPS S. A. TO N. Y. IN 30 HOURS AT $200 COST

Santa Ana to New York in thirty hours, in perfect comfort and with the utmost safety, at a total cost of two hundred dollars.

This, in brief, was the prediction here today of Glenn L. Martin, president of the Martin Aircraft company of Cleveland, Ohio, who arrived in Santa Ana for a three weeks' visit with friends and relatives.

The famous aviation expert was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. C. Y. Martin.

"Commercial aviation is destined to make rapid strides in the next ten years," said Martin. "The railroads, useful enough in their way, have had their day."

"Within the next ten years commercial aeronautics will have taken a long step forward in the solution of the transportation problem. Huge airships, able to accommodate at least fifty passengers will soon be making regular trips across the continent."

"When the proper steps have been taken, it will be quite possible for a business man in Santa Ana to make a trip to New York in from 25 to 30 hours, with perfect safety, and at a cost of only about as much again as the railroads charge for the present tedious journey."

Sees Worth in Bill

"One of the things that is bound to help commercial aeronautics very materially was the passage of the Wordsworth-Hicks bill, designated to regulate aircraft. This bill, soon to become a law, will enforce the requisite safety methods and will apply the acid test to those engaged in commercial aeronautics."

"No one would be so foolhardy as to send a vessel out to sea unless she was seaworthy. It is the same with aircraft. They've got to be made airworthy. Rigid inspection will govern these matters in the future. If a man cannot measure up to the necessary standards he will be denied a license to operate aircraft. This will eliminate nine-tenths of the present accidents."

Dismissing to discuss the Roma disaster near Norfolk, Va., Martin said if he had his way only helium gas would be used in such flights.

"Hydrogen gas was responsible for the death of all those poor fellows," said Martin. "I think helium gas should be used exclusively, and I am diametrically opposed to the use of hydrogen gas. I have seen that stuff explode, and I want to tell you I have more respect for it than I have for dynamite."

Planes to Play Large Part

Concerning the future of the dirigible, Martin said that the big ships would have their part in trans-oceanic traffic, but the real future of aviation will hinge largely upon the achievements of the heavier-than-air planes.

"I don't like the dirigible," Martin declared. "I think the airplane is the real sure shot. Although the future must decide just how great will be the progress in this direction, we are at least sure of one thing, the American government will lean more and more upon this type of machine for protection. It is the one arm of national defense that is absolutely indispensable."

The activities of the disarmament conference at Washington, instead of lessening the importance of this phase of defense, only served to heighten it. When we cut down on our navy, we find that we have got to pay more attention to this powerful means of defense. Naval men realize this. They have come to feel, more and more, that the airplane will take the place of the battleships of the sea."

Martin said federal supervision of commercial aviation activities is absolutely essential.

"We must establish definite terminals."

'Prince of Mugwumps' Title for Hays as He Quits Cabinet

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Will H. Hays' retirement from the cabinet today "brings thanksgiving and rejoicing to the Republican party," Representative Thomas S. Williams, Republican, Illinois, declared in a speech in the house today, bitterly attacking Hays' record as postmaster general.

Calling Hays the "prince of mugwumps" and the "one disappointment in the first year of the Republican administration," Williams declared that the "most popular act of Hays' career is his retirement to enter the movies."

ANTI-BONUS SOLON GETS DEATH NOTE

Senator Pepper, Pennsylvania, Receives Threatening Letter Signed By 'Black Hand.'

WASHINGTON, March 3.—A "black hand" letter, evidently from someone in Philadelphia, opposing his stand on the soldiers' bonus, reached Senator Pepper, Pennsylvania today.

Pepper, who has opposed granting a bonus to ex-service men, has been the center of bitter attacks from persons in Philadelphia.

The letter he received today bore a huge black hand across the sheet and in the corner was written the word "bonus."

Bandit Escapes With $19,000 In Payroll Robbery

LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., March 3.—A man in a yellow mask, alone, wounded Benjamin Primm, assistant treasurer of the Tiffin Products corporation here this afternoon and escaped with a payroll of $19,000.

Primm was wounded in the back. He had stepped from the payroll car and was about to enter the Tiffin company offices with the payroll when the bandit, features disguised behind a distinctive mask of yellow, stepped from an arway and shot him down.

The man leaped upon Primm and seized the package containing $19,000.

FEAR STEAMER LOST WITH ENTIRE CREW

S., March 3.—The Norwegian steamer Grunotto is feared to have foundered with all hands, according to a wireless message to the Cape Race station at 11:30 a. m. today from the steamer Estonia, which arrived at the position indicated by their sinking vessel yesterday. No signs of the Grunotto or her crew were found by the Estonia.

Dog and Cat Go 'Round and Round' With Neighbors at Ringside Seats

Cats and dogs are nice, peaceful pets but—oh! lady, when they get together—

For this is the unfortunate yarn of how a pretty little cat and a gentle little dog both got aroused and started a neighborhood row in Santa Ana yesterday.

The gloomy records at the police station tell the rest of the story.

It seems that a dog belonging to Mrs. Police Duren, 1328 East Third street, craved excitement shortly after eating his noon meal yesterday.

It wasn't long before he spied a cat that resides in the domicile of Mrs. C. Knowles, 1323 East Third, according to the police. The merry chase then started.

TOT ALIVE DESPITE BROKEN NECK, CLAIM

GLENDALF, Cal., March 3.—Little Barbara Jean, the fourteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Stratford of Glendale is alive today with a broken neck.

She was playing on a couch and fell a little over a foot to the floor breaking her neck and collar bone. Her neck was immediately placed in a plaster cast and aside from some pain no serious results have developed.

SHIFT IN BUILDING PROJECTS

Cut In Appropriation for Washington Structure Is Outlined

POPULATION GROWTH TO SOUTH IS FACTOR

Switch In Proposals Would Make $85,000 Available for Added Plant

The board of education has evolved tentative plans for providing the southwestern part of the city with a school house that was not contemplated when the $250,000 bond issue was voted, it was learned today.

At the same time, it was disclosed that the board will proceed with its plans to erect a new building on the site of the present Washington school.

The tentatively planned structure in the southwestern section will be of seven rooms.

Funds for its erection will be made available by cutting down the number of rooms proposed for the building to be erected on the site of the present Washington school.

Instead of twelve classrooms, it is proposed that the new Washington school have seven classrooms, administrative offices and a store room in the basement.

It is possible that Washington school will be used exclusively for seventh graders until plans can be developed and arrangements can be made for a large junior high school building.

Other Plans Outlined

The intermediate school on Main street has become officially a junior high school, with the establishment of the ninth grade there. Heretofore it has been called a junior high school, but it has had no legal standing as such.

If tentative plans are carried out, the Washington school will be maintained as a part of the legal junior high school by assigning seventh graders to that school.

With the rapid development of the southern part of the city, the board has come to the conclusion that it must make provision for additional school facilities in the southwestern section.

It is pointed out that a new school in that section would relieve the situation at McKinley and Spurgeon schools, while the new building in the eastern part of the city would relieve Roosevelt and Lincoln.

It is estimated that the new school house can be erected in the southwestern section for approximately $75,000 for site and building, and the board estimates that it will probably have that sum available through lower building costs and reduction in the size of Washington school.

Cut Washington Cost

The cost of the Washington school as originally proposed was estimated at $125,000. The changed plans will make a suitable building available at around $75,000, in the opinion of members of the board.

This would make a saving of $50,000 for the southwestern school building fund.

With $150,000 spent on the Washington and East Fourth street school houses, and equipment for all school houses estimated at $15,000, the board would have $85,000 with which to erect the third building and make additions and repairs to old school buildings as originally contemplated, a member of the board pointed out.

If Santa Ana maintains in the next two years the same ratio of population growth that has marked the past two years, the schools of the city will again be taxed to their capacity at the end of that time, the board member declared.

The official gave it as his belief that the voters of the city will be confronted with another school bond issue within the next two years—and he hopes that the growth in population will be such as to necessitate the building of not only one but two or three additional schools.

PREDICTS TRIPS S. A. TO N. Y. IN THIRTY HOURS

"By lighthouses, I mean stations set some twenty miles apart, equipped with wireless apparatus and other signalling devices, to aid in the safe and rapid flight of the big commercial birds of the air. The operators at these stations could telephone and telegraph to the ships, both day and night, and the terminal points could be regulated with the exact precision of the great railway terminals.

"Adequate landing facilities could be arranged and controlled by federal and state authorities, giving the aircraft a definite right of way, making it easier for the passengers, and making the thing upon a business-like and substantial basis. The terminals should be real affairs and operated on a big scale. When the details are worked out, in the next few years, I predict that aeromatics will practically revolutionize transportation.

Martin, who reported acute depression still gripping the East, said that California was the one prosperous state in the Union.

CAPPER STATEMENT DENIED BY LEGION

INDIANAPOLIS, March 3.—A statement attributed to Senator Arthur Capper, to the effect that the American Legion was urging the defeat of Major Robert G. Peck's nomination for promotion in the army, was denied in a statement issued here by Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the Legion. Bolles said the matter of Major Peck's promotion "has never been brought before the national organization which consequently has taken no action nor expressed any opinion in the matter."

The case is said to be an outgrowth of an adverse report made by Major Peck, who was inspector-general of the First Army corps, on the conduct of the Thirty-fifth division, composed of Missouri and Kansas National guard troops, during the fighting in the Argonne.

SAY $20,000,000 ESTATE 'LOST' ON COAST

Strayed—One $20,000,000 estate. Finder please notify County Clerk J. M. Backs. No reward in sight, but there might be if the estate is located and delivered free of charge. County Clerk J. M. Backs is casting his eagle eye around over Orange county today for a lost $20,000,000 estate.

Said estate may be hiding out. The gist of this strange tale of mysterious wealth, according to Backs, is that "there ain't no such animal" running around loose in these parts.

This morning Backs received a letter from A. McCoy of 125 Pearl street, Baltimore, Md. Inclosed was what purports to be the typewritten copy of a newspaper clipping from a Cumberland newspaper. This clipping says that in California there is a $20,000,000 estate awaiting the heirs of "Ezekiel, William or Walter McCoy," that years ago some McCoy brothers went from West Virginia to California, and after arriving in this land of gold they managed to pick up some twenty million or so in coin of the realm or something of that sort. Presumably these McCoy brothers have shuffled off this mortal coil and left their gotten gains behind them, as most people do.

Further, the clipping says that some of the heirs live in Flintstone, Md., and some in Funkstown, Md., they being relatives of McCoy who moved to those places from West Virginia.

A. McCoy of Baltimore thinks he is one of the lucky McCoy's. He asks County Clerk Backs to give him details concerning the estate. The chances are the same kind of a letter has been sent to other county clerks of the state.

"There is no $20,000,000 McCoy estate or any other kind of a McCoy estate or any other kind of a $20,000,000 estate floating around here unanchored that I ever heard of," said Backs today.

This historic metamorphosis which is taking place before the eyes of the world, began when the British colonies were admitted to the Paris peace conference on equality with independent nations.

The grant of self-government to Egypt, which has not been free since the downfall of Cleopatra's kingdom, is the latest step in the same evolutionary process.

TOMORROW LAST DAY FOR VOTE REGISTRATION

Tomorrow is the last day when voters who desire to vote at the municipal bond election here April 4, may register.

Registration deputies were busy today, signing up voters.

It is expected that tomorrow will see a final last-minute rush of registrations.

GEORGE E. MARCY IS SANTA ANA VISITOR

George E. Marcy, owner of Marcy Heights east of Tustin, was a Santa Ana visitor today.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Marcy. The visitors arrived in Pasadena from Chicago a week ago. They were here for the day only.

Marcy said today that general business conditions were picking up in the east, but there still had to be greater readjustment of railroad rates and other conditions changed that are preventing this nation getting back into its old normal stride of business activity.

FIRE AT FUNERAL SERVICES FOR FIVE

NEW YORK, March 3.—Five mourners around the bier of 4-year-old Angelina Zarcarose were seriously burned in the family home in Brooklyn when the draperies on the little coffin caught fire from lighted candles. Soon the whole room was blazing. When the firemen arrived they were driven back by the intense heat and thick smoke. The bodies of the mourners lay on the floor.

Playing their hoses in front of them and stumbling through the smoke, the firemen finally were able to reach and drag to safety the five adults and rescue the charred body of the little girl from the blazing coffin.

GETS PROBATION AS PARENTS SEND MONEY TO SEND YOUTH HOME

Probation was given by Judge Z. B. West today to George Waterman of Denver, Colo., and probation will probably be given to Cecil Parker, a Canadian. The two young men were accused of the theft of an automobile belonging to Louis Sheats, of Tustin.

Probation Officer R. R. Miller reported today that money had been received from Waterman's parents, who had agreed to look after him. Under instructions from the court, a ticket for Waterman was bought and he will soon be on his way home. Miller said that money is on its way here from Parker's parents, and he, too, will probably be sent home.

Thus will end a period of wandering on the part of the youths. According to information given the court, they were wandering about the country when they got into trouble here.

BRITISH EMPIRE IS UNDERGOING CHANGE

NEW YORK, March 3.—A federal commonwealth of nations is rapidly replacing the British empire.

The announcement that freedom is to be given to Egypt, following so closely on establishment of the Irish Free State, means the British government is carrying out a policy of modernizing the empire by means of self-determination.

India now remains the only part of Great Britain held by the old principles of imperial rule. Plans are now being considered for extending India. When that is accomplished, complete democratic autonomy in the British empire will have under gone an entire change of form, as a result of the war.

This historic metamorphosis which is taking place before the eyes of the world, began when the British colonies were admitted to the Paris peace conference on equality with independent nations.

The grant of self-government to Egypt, which has not been free since the downfall of Cleopatra's kingdom, is the latest step in the same evolutionary process.

HARDING PASSES CRITICAL MUSTER

NEW YORK, March 3.—President Harding may have the satisfaction of knowing that he passed muster after undergoing the critical gaze of five small boys who called on him in Washington last Monday with a petition from 50,000 school fellows asking him to become honorary president of the Boys' Club federation.

"He seemed like a nice man to us," solemnly declared 15-year-old Max Eber of the East Side, one of the delegation, who returned to his school desk today, reflecting with satisfaction on the success of his mission.

"He is a big man, sort of stout, and he stood up all the time we was there, and smiled."

Confessing a slight nervousness while sitting in the White House waiting to be ushered into the President's presence, Max said: "Soon as we went in he started smiling and as soon as we saw that and he spoke to us so nice, we got over the fears."

"When it was all over he said to me, 'Well, good-by, Max; glad I met you, Wilber, and you,' and he named 'em all off and never made a mistake."

"There was other people waiting there that never got in to see the President," Max added, importantly.

PROFIT OR LOSS ON SUPPLIES UNKNOWN

PARIS, March 3.—Andre Paisant, under-secretary of state, announced that the French government has to date realized 2,800,000,000 francs from the sale of the vast supplies left behind by the American army and purchased by the French government. The remainder of the stocks are expected to bring 200,000,000 francs, making a total of 4,800,000,000 francs.

The government is in the curious position of not knowing until 1923 whether it has made a profit or loss on the huge transaction. The result depends upon the rate of exchange on the dollar on that date. The government bought the stocks from the United States for $400,000,000 and promised to pay within ten years in dollars. At the time of purchase the franc was seven to the dollar—or 2,800,000,000 francs. The interest is 5 per cent semi-annually, but no interest has yet been paid.

If the franc goes down to seven to the dollar by 1923 the government will stand to make about 1,200,000,000 francs on the deal.

THE GREATER CORRUPTION Rastus and his seven sons controlled, of course, eight votes. The election was approaching, and the fight was a bitter one. The result was of financial importance to several gentlemen, and greatly in doubt.

The Democratic campaign managers approached Rastus and offered him $25 for his and his sons' votes. Rastus accepted the "honorarium" and put it in his pocket.

The Republican managers approached him subsequently and offered him $50 for the same goods. Rastus pocketed this also.

On election day the eight colored voters lined up and voted the straight Democratic ticket.

A Republican campaign manager approached Rastus in wrath and said:

"Rastus, they tell me you fellows all voted Democratic after all."

"Yassah, boss man."

"Didn't we give you $50 for your votes, while the Democrats gave you only $25?"

"Sho did."

"Then why did you vote for them instead of us?"

"I figgahs disaway, boss man. De Dimmycrats wuz jes half as crupt ez whut de 'Publicans wuz."

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE "So you are not in favor of calling a janitor a 'superintendent'?"

"Most decidedly not! When we had a 'janitor' we got steam heat. But a 'superintendent' considers himself above such menial work!"—New York Sun.

SEES BRICKYARD HOLE AS GREEK THEATER SITE

The brickyard hole at the corner of Olive and Hickey streets, owned by William Sackman, can be converted into a valuable city asset, J. M. Paige, park commissioner of Pomona, told the Santa Ana Realty board at St. Ann's Inn at noon today.

He visited the site before noon in company with Freeman H. Bloodgood, A. B. Roussele and J. C. Wallace to make observations of the location, depth of the pit and other conditions.

He declared the acoustics were all that could be desired and that the site offered a location for a fine greek theater. He estimated that a theater could be constructed there that would seat from 7000 to 10,000 persons. He made no attempt to estimate the probable cost.

He suggested its institution as a place for the holding of large open air gatherings, union church services on Sundays during the summer months, school graduations and similar assemblages.

Tells Pomona's Experience He recounted the experiences of Pomona in building its greek theater at a cost of approximately $16,000. It will have a seating capacity, when finally completed of 10,000 persons.

In his opinion, bonds should be voted to the improvement here if it should be decided that the project should be put over.

A. B. Roussele, chairman of the city planning committee of the board, was chairman of the meeting today, and at the conclusion of Paige's address the committee was instructed to make investigations as to the advisability of acquiring the property, if possible, and the feasibility of the theater. W. W. Hoy was added to the committee and he will make measurements and provide data upon which the committee will later base a report to the board.

Back Thrift Drive Resolutions endorsing the thrift campaign in this city and the proposal to raise funds for a Y. M. C. A. building in Santa Ana were passed. The luncheon next Wednesday will be devoted to a discussion of the bond issues to be voted on April 4, with W. W. Hoy, former city engineer, as chairman.

J. C. Wallace, secretary announced that selection of the convention city for the next state convention of the California Real Estate association would be made within a month. He said that selection of Santa Ana depended largely upon whether the city could convince the directors that accommodations are available. He urged the co-operation of members in developing the proof necessary to convince the directors.

HOLD FINAL RITES FOR LOUIS BAUMAN

With delegations from the Lions club, the Masons, the Santa Ana Steam laundry and other organizations present, last sad rites were held at 2 p. m. today at the Smith and Tutill parlors for Louis P. Bauman, well known Santa Ana resident who died here suddenly Tuesday evening.

The Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, officiated.

The Rev. Mr. Schrock spoke of the activeness with which Mr. Bauman was identified, beginning with the quotation from Irving Batchelor, "The wealth of the world is stored in the spirit of a man."

"Louis P. Bauman's value as a citizen and as a personality," the Rev. Mr. Schrock stated, "is evidenced by the scope of his activities and by the relationships he bore to those activities. His membership in the church, in the Masons, and the Lions club exemplifies only a few of the things for which he stood."

Maurice Phillips sang "A Guide With Me," and "Nearer My God to Thee."

Fallbearers at the funeral were Maurice Phillips and O. H. Egge, as representatives from the Lions club; E. L. Eckley and Frank Hoffman from the Masons; and A. H. Morrow and W. H. Stevens from the Santa Ana Steam laundry, with which Mr. Bauman served in the capacity as assistant secretary and assistant manager.

ROAD WORKERS HURT WHEN BOULDER FALLS

OXNARD, March 3.—Thomas and John Griffin, two brothers working on construction work on the new state highway at Point Magu, were seriously injured when they were pushed down an embankment by a large boulder which hit them when a quantity of gravel and rock formed a landslide. They are now in St. John's hospital here.

The men were drillers working on blasting work. Yesterday a portion of a cliff had not fallen when a charge was set off and while the men were busy drilling today for another blast the earth gave way. When the workmen were struck by the boulder they were carried down a 100-foot bank. Both men are in a serious condition.

EUROPE'S BREWERS FEAR PROHIBITION

BERLIN, March 3.—Minutes which have just been published here of a recent secret convention of German and Swiss brewers admitted they feared prohibition would sweep Europe. It was decided at the convention to immediately send a representative of the brewers, Dr. Neumann, to the United States to study the effects of prohibition there and to start a campaign in the newspapers of Europe.

Dr. Kuery, president of the Swiss Anti-Prohibition Association, asserted that it was necessary for the brewery interests of the world to unite in a campaign and particularly to fight together against the antagonists of beer. The newspaper advertisements, he added, must represent the viewpoint of the users of the beverage, and not overestimate the beneficial effects of alcohol lest there should be a reaction against the brewing interests.

SENATORS CONFIRM WORK NOMINATION

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Dr. Hubert Work of Colorado was nominated by President Harding to be postmaster general of the United States, and his nomination was immediately confirmed by the senate in open executive session.

Dr. Work, who is now the first assistant postmaster general, will assume the office of postmaster general on Saturday at noon, when the retiring postmaster general, Will H. Hays, will leave office.

When You Spend 4 Cents
You Spend a Dollars Worth

Russell Sage—the great Wall Street financier—once made the statement that every time he spent four cents it was equivalent to spending a dollar's WORTH. He reasoned—wisely—that he had spent the earning power of that dollar for an entire year. Is this not a lesson to YOU.

A Dollar Is WORTH
Just What It Can Earn

Mr. Sage compared a dollar to one of an army of workmen earning money. If one is inactive his earning power stops—just as the earning power of a dollar stops if it is not safely employed. He attributed his success to keeping his dollars employed and to watching their growth. We offer safe employment for YOUR dollars.

SAYS NORTHERN GROWERS ARE FOR MORRIS

ANAHEIM, March 3.—That citrus interests in the northern part of the county are in favor of retaining County Horticultural Commissioner Earl L. Morris in the office he holds, was asserted today by a man prominent in citrus association work in this part of the county. Further, he declared that so far as he can determine the opposition to Morris comes largely from citrus interests in the southern part of the county.

According to J. E. Rehman, of Anaheim, a member of the committee appointed by the Northern Orange County Fruit exchange to cooperate with a committee of the Orange County Fruit exchange, which has its headquarters at Orange, A. A. Brock, of Santa Paula, is being recommended for appointment to succeed Morris.

Rehman made declaration here today that while he terms a man more experienced than Morris is desired for the reason that there is a plan on foot to establish an insectary in Orange county, and it is proposed to consolidate the office of horticultural commissioner with that of manager of the proposed insectary.

The likelihood of the removal of Morris is beginning to stir citrus growers in the north half of the county, according to the statement of the prominent citrus man who was mentioned in the opening paragraph and who, for certain reasons, does not wish his name used.

"Morris has given absolute satisfaction during the four years of his administration of the office," said this man, "It is the reported desire of some of the citrus interests to amalgamate the position of commissioner and manager of the proposed insectary."

"It is the opinion of many citrus growers in my exchange that Morris has given satisfaction and has done wonderful work in the county in the past four years, and that he should be given an opportunity to accept or refuse the position in order that he may demonstrate his ability one way or the other."

MASON BUILDING PLAN GAINS IN FAVOR, CLAIM

"I believe that the large majority of Masons in Santa Ana are heartily in favor of the proposal to erect a new Masonic temple," declared D. N. Kelly today in commenting on the publication yesterday of the fact that the project is under consideration.

"Committees are making investigations and drawing up tentative plans, but affairs are unsettled at the present time, and I believe that the matter will not be discussed in lodge meeting for some weeks," Kelly continued.

"I know of no faction which is opposed to the plan."

Another prominent Mason here today said that he estimated the present Masonic hall and lot to be worth "considerably more than $100,000."

Early announcements of the project stated that approximately $200,000 would be expended on the new temple, if it is built.

Announcement made by the center officials stated that a special program for the benefit of the new members will be carried out this evening. A summary of the results of the railroad commission hearing in Los Angeles will be given, and project committees will render reports. Chief among the latter will be the report of William Hatch and Assistant Farm Advisor Floyd Scott, on the formation of a poultry club.

A final call to former residents of Oklahoma, advising them of the big picnic reunion that will be held tomorrow at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, was issued here today.

SCHWAB PREDICTS EARLY PROSPERITY

WHEELING, W. Va., March 3.—Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, in an address before the Wheeling Kiwanis club, declared that America has come through the worst steel depression experienced in his forty-one years in the business.

He predicted an early return to prosperity equal to that of normal times.

MAN PLEADS GUILTY AFTER 2 JURIES FAIL

SACRAMENTO, March 3.—Five minutes after a jury had disagreed in his case, Joe Borjorquez, Mexican, withdrew his plea of not guilty in the superior court here and was sentenced by Judge Malcolm C. Glenn to serve four months in the county jail for receiving stolen property. It was his second trial.

POLY DEBATERS VICTORIOUS IN CUP STRUGGLE

Santa Ana high school debaters came into possession of the county trophy as a result of two victories in the county debate held today with Santa Ana, Huntington Beach, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton participating.

Debate the question, "Resolved: That Compulsory Arbitration be Effective in Labor Disputes." Santa Ana orators defeated Huntington Beach here this morning, 3 to 0.

Overton Lühr and William Adamson represented Poly in the affirmative against William Cook and L. J. Bumshaw of Huntington Beach.

The Poly speakers also registered a 3-to-0 victory over Fullerton at Fullerton.

Results of the other debates held in the county gave the victory to Anaheim over both Huntington Beach and Orange, with the record standing 2 to 1.

This gave Anaheim 4 decisions as against Santa Ana's 6 and the total number of points were 8 for Santa Ana and 8 for Anaheim, thus winning the county cup for the local high school.

FIND MAN'S BODY
PETALUMA, March 3.—Joseph Tagliarini, who disappeared from his home in Chicago valley last night, was drowned in the San Antonio creek, near the Laguna, and his body was found. Tagliarini had poor eyesight and he wandered from the family home. His drowning is believed to have been accidental. Tagliarini was a native of Switzerland, aged 70 years.

HEARING IS CONTINUED
The hearing of Charles C. Frost, cited to appear before Superior Judge Z. B. West on a charge of contempt, was continued today to March 10. It is alleged that Frost, in violation of an order of court, continued to go to a rooming house in Santa Ana conducted by Mrs. Frost.

Market Report
WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, March 3.—The general list continued to work higher on the New York Stock exchange today.
The leaders were Mexican Petroleum, rubber stocks, equipments and some of the low priced rails. American Locomotive led this group, responding to the story of Dow Jones and company analyzed the excellent position of this concern. American Locomotive has increased its working capital by nearly $30,000,000 since June 30, 1914.
Gulf States steel continued to lead the independent steel group, partially due to the running in of short. The short interest put up Republic steel to above 45, or nine points above the low of last year, when the payment of the preferred dividend was not questioned. Bethlehem steel, paying $5 a share, is selling only 10 points above Republic. Republic iron and steel, with other steels, will show another big deficit in the coming quarter due to the fact that steel prices are lower than they were in pre-war years.
The market closed irregular.

February, 15th, 1922

Gentlemen:—It is a pleasure to write you in regard to the Knabe Piano, which because of its beautiful uniform quality of tone is especially adapted to the teaching of voice production.

I also heartily commend the use of this instrument for concert appearances and have found it always to give a beautiful sympathetic tone as well as adequate support so necessary to the singer whose aim is a finished performance.

Sincerely,

JAPANESE PLAN RECOGNITION FOR RUSSIA

By CLARENCE DU BOSE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
TOKIO, March 3.—Japan is disposed to recognize the Soviet government of Russia under certain conditions, the United Press learned today from an authoritative source. Instructions to the Japanese delegates at the proposed Genoa economic conference are now being prepared, but have not been completed, the United Press was told.

The informant declared that Japan probably will present two leading requirements, namely:

That the Soviets assume the debts of the old government.

That the Soviet regime guarantee the safety of foreign property and lives in Russia.

If these requirements are accepted, it was stated, and are fulfilled, Japan will be disposed to recognize the Soviet government.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Japanese position on the recognition of Soviet Russia corresponds closely with that of the United States, state department officials said today upon reading United Press dispatches from Tokyo.

Both the United States and Japan are demanding that the Soviet guarantee the safety of foreign property and lives in Russia, and that the Bolsheviks not repudiate the debts of the old regime.

The United States also is demanding that Russia guarantee the sanctity of contracts; that it compel its citizens to live up to contracts they make with American citizens.

RANCHER BEATEN TO DEATH BY GANG, VIEW

(United Press Leased Wire.)
SAN PEDRO, March 3.—George Logie, 70, well-to-do farmer, residing near Wilmington, was found dead on harbor boulevard at 4 o'clock this morning by Sergeant of Police A. A. Green and Detective Sergeant Gus Smith.

Logie is believed to have engaged in a desperate hand-to-hand struggle with gangsters. His right hand had been cut during the battle and his body was bruised from blows. Death was due, however, to heart failure, the police say.

Logie's home, which is several blocks from the place where his body was found, bore evidence of a terrific struggle. Every room had been turned topsy-turvy, the gangsters evidently believing that Logie had money and valuables concealed in the house.

MADSEN TO QUIT AS SECY. TO GOVERNOR

(United Press Leased Wire.)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Martin Madsen, private secretary to Governor Stephens will resign in a short time to become general manager of the East Bay Corporation of Oakland, recently formed to promote industrial development on the East side of San Francisco bay.

Madsen has been prominent in politics since 1913.

ILL. COAL MINERS LAUNCH PEACE MOVE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 3.—Illinois union mine leaders threatened today to bolt from the solid ranks of the United Mine Workers and make separate peace with state operators.

Frank H. Farrington, president of the Illinois miners, predicted as union officials gathered here that his organization would throw the April 1 strike plans overboard and accept the invitation of Illinois operators for a parley.

In case Farrington's program is favored by other union officials of district number 12 it will mean miners of Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana will have to fight their own battles.

LEWIS PUTS HIS BEES OVER HURDLES

MODESTO, March 3.—With the thermometer hovering around 75 degrees before and after lunch Manager Duffy Lewis of the Salt Lake Bees opened the third day of the training season. Fifteen men answered the roll call and at 10 o'clock sharp started the first workout of the day. Lewis, who is strong on road work, sent the boys over a five-mile hike ending at the ball park. Here a solid hour of batting and fielding practice was indulged in. Beginning at 1:30 in the afternoon the same course of work was followed.

Siglin, Byler and Byrd Lynn are still among those who have not advised Manager Lewis of their plans.

ONE STATE AVIATOR ONLY SEEKS LICENSE

SACRAMENTO, March 2.—There are approximately 200 civilian aviators in California, but thus far only one has applied for a license under the provisions of the act of the last legislature. It was announced by Charles J. Chenu, director of the motor vehicle department.

Chenu expressed the opinion that the aviators do not take the law seriously and that they intend to ignore its provisions.

BROKERS FLEE FOR EUROPE AS INQUIRY UNCOVERS SCANDALS

NEW YORK, March 3.—Bucketshop brokers are fleeing by the score before the storm of the district attorney's investigation, it developed today.

Nearly 100 detectives have been sent into Wall street to bring back brokers wanted for trial in connection with the sweeping bucketshop investigations. They have found empty offices, with perhaps only a janitor or an unpaid office boy, or may be a ticker still tapping out the market's fluctuations. Of nearly fifty indictments to date, only six arrests have been made.

The fleeing brokers have gone, for the most part to Europe.

Rail has been fixed at $50,000 in a majority of cases where the bucketsters have been apprehended. A little trip abroad is cheaper than the premium on such bail.

DRUNKENNESS CHARGED TO 'DRY' INSPECTOR

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Accused by Prohibition Agent A. B. Stroup of being intoxicated while on duty, Frank Driscoll, prohibition inspector, has been recommended for dismissal. The recommendation of Stroup was forwarded to Prohibition Commissioner Roy Haines by Director E. F. Mitchell Tuesday night, but no answer has been received so far. Mitchell did not concur in the recommendation, as Driscoll has been in the internal revenue service for more than twenty years and was recommended to the director by Special Agents E. C. Yellowley and S. F. Rutter.

ATHLETE'S LEG BROKEN

UNIVERSITY OF SANTA CLARA, March 3.—Santa Clara's baseball team received a severe setback today, when Ernest Scettrini, second baseman, suffered a broken leg. The accident happened at second base on a close play. This was Scettrini's first year on the varsity, and he was the "find" of the season.

POLICE ARREST WAITER IN BIG BOOZE THEFT

(United Press Leased Wire.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Adrien Gourssolle, waiter, was arrested by police today in connection with the investigation of the robbery of the Julian Hart home at Menlo park Wednesday of liquor and valuables worth $25,000.

Three hundred bottles of wine were seized by the police when they arrested Gourssolle at his home here.

Police said some of the bottles had upon them the name of "McNear," the name of the owner of much of the liquor stolen from the Hart home.

"We have definite clues in our possession," said Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson, discussing the robbery today. He said he believed the entire gang would be arrested soon.

A check of the losses sustained by Hart shows that the robbers carried away 100 cases of liquor which belonged largely to Frederick W. McNear and in addition drank nearly a dozen bottles of fine wine. Members of the Hart family and several guests were bound, robbed of jewels and forced to watch proceedings.

ESTATE DISTRIBUTION ORDERS ENTERED HERE

Three orders for distribution were entered in the county clerk's office today.

In the estate of William H. Newcomb, lots 57 and 58, tract 62, Huntington Beach, are distributed with a one-third interest going to each of three sisters of Newcomb, Mrs. Annie A. Betts of Silver City, N. M., Miss Frances Newcomb and Miss Lucy Newcomb, of Jamaica Plains, Mass. The estate's attorney is W. F. Menton.

Lot 28, block H, McKnight's addition to Laguna Beach, was distributed to Walter E. Pyne, who has bought the interests of all the heirs of Nevada C. Bozarth. Attorney W. F. Menton represented the estate.

The estate of George W. Myrick, for which Walter Eden appeared as attorney, is distributed to the heirs. The estate, worth $9,000, includes Santa Ana property.

PATCHWORK QUILT

BY ELEANOR ELLIOTT

THE FIRST SUNRISE

Gazing in awe upon the eastern sky,

Adam and Eve in primal silence stood.

Mute with the wonders that had passed and them by

That awesome night in the primeval wood.

That night— which like a black and awful hand

Had pressed the sun below the farthest hill.

To shadow all the wonders of the land

In darkness terrifying, vast and still.

No words were theirs of wonder and alarm;

'Twas light—'twas dark—nor knew they "night" or "day;"

They only knew the rays so bright and warm

Which greeted them, had slowly passed away.

Nor for the silent night, whose velvet

Had passed across the meadow, lush with grass,

Had they a word, but only sensed the dread

Of dark, unending—that might never pass.

But o'er the garden trees, they faced the east,

Nor knew the miracle to meet their eyes—

A lessening of the dark—that much at least—

An edge of silver 'gainst the ink

skies.

A slender, piercing breath of icy air

To send them seeking warmth in close embrace,

Then straightening, with a fine courageous air,

They turned—not knowing what was there to face.

Roseglow—all tremulous, unwrapped

the earth

In pearly gleams, while in the Garden trees,

A thousand thousand little birds in

Poured forth their greetings to the cold dawn breeze.

Deeper and yet deeper grew the tints

And yet more blinding to their watchful eyes.

When that first pair, in solitude im-

In their new world, beheld the first sunrise!

.. Mysteriously Fascinating is that little island off the shore of California which gives its name of "El Diablo" to the latest book from the pen of Brayton Norton, Laguna's postmaster author.

Readers of Sunset—and what loyal

California—worthy of bearing the name, is not—will welcome the tale's appearance in book form, for it was as a serial in that magazine of the western coast, that it first attracted attention.

El Diablo, then, is an effort to do for the fishing industries of Southern California, what has been done for many years for those of the Atlantic seaboard, and in this effort,

Brayton Norton is an ex-serviceman himself, and his tribute to his pals, is one of the best things in the book, we think.

Add to the setting and the principles, a dash of smuggling, a series of racial quarrels over fishing rights, a fascinating villain in the person of Mascola, and you have the ingredients for a stirring tale and Norton has cooked them up into a dish "to set before the king."

Saucy Anne Says

"I ist comed over to play, that's all—

I don't fink you heard my mother call

But I spect if you did, she has found the cup

That I ist let fall, an' it all broke up."

Americanism Speaks

In Song Explanations

Often Given at Concerts.

CECIL FANNING

Peculiarly and convincingly an

ning, who will appear before local music lovers for his second Santa

Ana engagement, Tuesday night,

March 7, at the high school auditorium.

Born in Columbus, Ohio, Cecil Fanning received his early training under H. B. Turpin, and the results were so satisfactory that the friendship and associations thus formed, have endured to the present with

Mr. Turpin acting as accompanist with such a complete and sympathetic understanding between him and the celebrated baritone, that their appearance are hailed more as a joint recital.

This understanding transmits itself to the audience, and it has been said that the recitals are the most delightfully informal of any given today in the world of music.

This air of informality is ever encouraged, and one of the forms it takes, is the charming little explanation given verbally of the settings of the song Mr. Fanning is about to sing.

And there speaks his Americanism, perhaps better than in any other respect,—that he knows and appreciates the fact that American audiences like to have an understanding of a song's topic other than what the music can give, and prefers an informal and intimate little descriptive talk to the colder printed explanation.

Hence intelligence is the keynote of the Cecil Fanning recitals. Intelligence and a warm friendliness, which was manifested to Santa Ana audiences at his prior concert here.

Remembering the charm of that recital and the artist's wonderfully rich baritone voice, it will be an enthusiastic crowd to greet him "Tuesday night, and the Santa Ana Musical association may rest assured that in Cecil Fanning, it is presenting one of the best features of an unexcelled

pleasant features of the trip, and the

In honor of the occasion, the so-

numbers including a whistling solo by Darold Myer and a group of amuswhile a series of exciting games and

Charmingly Entertain

At Delightful Bridge Tea

Mrs. Robert C. Mize and Mrs. H.

A. Gardner again proved themselves charming hostesses when they entertained yesterday afternoon at the

The Mize home, 405 South Ross street was the scene of the function where five tables were utilized for bridge, and the same lovely vernal decorations used on the previous afternoon were in evidence.

Masses of spring blossoms carried the dominant yellow color note, while the canaries from their swinging perches, caroled as gay a greeting.

At the conclusion of the series of games, Mrs. William H. Spurgeon was found to be the fortunate holder of high score and received the gift of six delightful iced tea glasses with their special spoons, through which the refreshing liquid might be drawn.

Mrs. Fred Chapman, with second high score, received a handsome

Cluny lace and linen dresser scarf

while Mrs. Baxter Jouvenat received ample consolation for low score, in the pretty crystal mayonnaise bowl with silver spoon which fell to her share.

The card tables were spread with lovely linen cloths for the serving of the two-course tea while the centers were adorned with the baskets of fragrant bloom which were tied with tulle bows in a combination of blue and gold of the baskets and the golden blossoms.

Each guest was given as a favor, a small French bouquet composed of violets and sweet peas surrounding a spray of acacia and all buried in a nest of maidenhair fern.

NAVAL OFFICER NAB SUSPECT AS SOUGHT AFTER AUTO CRASH WOMAN WIELDS REVOLVER

Horace E. Comstock, of 1745 Locust avenue, Long Beach, was in Santa Ana today endeavoring to get the name of the owner of an automobile that he says ran him down on the Westminster-Seal Beach boulevard February 20.

Comstock related to Sheriff Jackson the story as he knows it. He said that he was riding a motorcycle at 3 o'clock in the morning when an automobile ran into him from the rear. He was taken by the automobile party to the police station at Long Beach in a semi-conscious condition. At the police station, the auto driver said he would report the accident to the sheriff of this county, and so no names were taken there.

Recovering, Comstock began to look around for damages. He came here to find out who he should sue. He learned, to his annoyance, that no report of the accident had ever been made here. Comstock said that one of the men in the car was a naval officer. He proposes to go to San Pedro and see if he can get trace of this officer.

RESINOL
Soothing and Healing

With a revolver, Mrs. B. H. Sharpless held a man a prisoner yesterday evening until her husband arrived. Then she and her husband held the man prisoner until Under Sheriff French reached the scene. The prisoner, who says his name is W. F. Moye, was in jail today on a charge of burglary.

The display of firearms and the capture took place at the Sharpless ranch on Newport road, Tustin.

To the rear of the Sharpless residence is a small house in which farm hands are sometimes housed. Just now no one is living in the place.

Yesterday evening while her husband was away, Mrs. Sharpless heard a noise in the house to the rear. She investigated, looked in, saw a man, slammed the door and locked it, ran to the house and returned with a revolver in her hand.

The man has not escaped. The reason why he was still there may have been because he had to stop to put on his shoes. When he saw Mrs. Sharpless' determined look and ready revolver, he decided to await developments. Developments came when Sharpless arrived, finding his wife on guard.

A telephone message to the sheriff's office brought French. The man surrendered without a murmur.

He said he was making his way through the country, found the house vacant, wanted to sleep, so went in, pulled off his shoes and had stretched himself on a mattress to sleep when Mrs. Sharpless rudely disturbed his slumber plans.

The drugs, which had been seized from smugglers during the past year, were destroyed publicly in the presence of representatives of the various organizations engaged in the campaign and delegates representing the president of the republic.

SCOTCH BRIDE NEEDS ONLY CANINE PET TO MAKE JOY COMPLETE

Pretty Mrs. Estil Humphreys, nee Yvette Cowan, Scotch-Russian bride of the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Humphreys, 427 West Washington avenue, likes California better than the lowly'n's of Scotland, the fogs of London, or the chilly atmosphere of Volma, but she is lonesome for her dog,—or in fact, any dog.

The 19-year-old lassie, whose marriage resulted from a whirlwind courtship by Humphreys, then a radio operator on a United States ship stationed at Edinburgh, can do without her friends of the old country, but she longs day and night for a canine companion.

"We always had a dog around the house," she declared, "and I have always had one for company." There are few dogs in Santa Ana, but I wish I had one. I miss my Scotch collie pet of the old country."

Mrs. Humphreys makes it clear that she is not very homesick, but that her joy would be supreme if she had a dog to keep her company while her husband is at work.

FOREST EXCHANGE MEASURE OPPOSED

PLACERVILLE, March 2.—Sheriff Charles E. Hand of El Dorado county, who was one of the first Placer-ville men to wage a fight against the forest exchange bills now before congress, declared here that Placer and El Dorado counties have recruited throughout the state and have aroused such interest in their cause in other states containing national forests, that the movement against the bills gives promise of creating one of the big issues before congress, with all the west united against the measures.

Thirty-nine counties in California contain forest reserve lands affected by the forest exchange bills. It is the aim of the pioneers of the movement against the measures, Hand said, to enlist every one of these counties in the cause, and eventually to join forces with Oregon, Washington, Colorado and Montana and other states in which small counties will lose large revenues under the bills.

WANT GERMAN TOYS
ROCKFORD, Ill., March 2.—Declaring that German competition is wrecking the American toy manufacturing industry, officials of the Bobby Toy shops, a Rockford corporation, today filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the Federal court. "Two years ago you could not sell a German-made toy in the United States," said E. M. St. John, vice-president of the firm. "Today you cannot sell anything else."

The steady income of the rooming house is dependent upon the Want Ads.

CANADIAN VET IS SENTENCED TO SAN QUENTIN

Failure to secure probation, today brought to Frank William Johnson, who says he served four years with the Canadian army, a sentence to San Quentin. Sentence of "not more than fourteen years" was passed by Superior Judge Z. B. West.

Johnson was convicted several days ago of passing a $65 worthless check on the Doty drug store at Fullerton.

A. E. Koepsel, attorney appointed to defend Johnson, endeavored to secure probation.

The hearing before Judge West today concerned whether Johnson while in jail had attacked the American flag.

Evidence brought out by witnesses was to the effect that Johnson had said he was tired of this country, that it was not worth a whoop.

Johnson said the remarks he made were brought out in a discussion among the prisoners as to who won the war.

He said that because of what he said the other prisoners would have nothing to do with him.

AIR LIGHTHOUSE TO GUIDE NIGHT PLANES

PARIS, March 2.—It has been decided to erect on Mount Afrique, near Dijon, the most powerful air-lighthouse in the world, which will be visible to night-flying airplanes as far as 250 miles.

The new air-lighthouse will have the enormous candlepower of 1,000,000,000—more than ten times as powerful as the great Navsink light at the entrance of New York bay with its 60,000,000 candlepower. In ordinary weather conditions the range of the light will be from 100 to 200 miles, but in clear weather and at great heights the range will reach 250 miles.

WE MUST GET IT SUNDAY!

—Sunday is the last day of the big attendance contest between the Community Men's Bible Class of Santa Ana and the Community Men's Bible Class of Fullerton. Sunday will decide which town has the largest number of public-spirited men and boys. Fullerton is scouring all the north half of the county for men and boys to pile up an attendance record to swamp Santa Ana. Let's show them it can't be done!

—Let's turn out every last man and boy in Santa Ana who is not actively engaged in some other Sunday School work and show Fullerton what a real LIVE town acts like on Sunday morning!

FULLERTON'S GOAT

—Remember—Sunday morning at 9:30—the meeting will be held in BIRCH PARK if it is a fair day. If the weather is not pleasant the meeting will be held in the West End Theater as usual. Last Sunday morning the theater was too small to hold the crowd. Next Sunday morning it is hoped that the crowd will fill every available seat in Birch Park. Last Sunday was the first time Santa Ana has been in the lead. Next Sunday is the LAST CHANCE to annex Fullerton's goat and bring the big silk Flag to Santa Ana. The program in the park will be worth two dollars of any man's money—but it is all FREE!

MAN—LOOK AT THIS BIG PROGRAM—ALL FREE!

- James H. Foley, the principal speaker, is one of the most famous lecturers and entertainers of Southern California. He is sought after far and wide and will come to Santa Ana Sunday morning with an address that any Chautauqua would be proud to present.

BIG BEAN SHIPMENT MADE FROM MODESTO

MODESTO, March 3.—The Modesto Bean and Grain company reports sale, for the relief of starving people in certain parts of Russia, of over 14,000 sacks of California beans. This order is made up of teparies, damaged old crop beans and reclaimed screenings.

According to P. S. Bomberger, this is one of the largest individual bean orders booked since the war, and this sale cleans up all the old crop beans in California.

The beans were secured by the Modesto bean firm from nearly every county between Yuba and Imperial Valley, and they have arranged to do all the oversacking, for export, in the warehouses here.

The ship which will leave for Russia will dock from San Francisco in March, and will have an entire cargo of foodstuffs, consisting of beans, barley, wheat, rye, rice, dried fruits, and used clothing. Over half of the 14,000 sack order sold by the Modesto Bean company will go out of Stanislaus county.

CIRCUS 'FAT LADY' WHO WEIGHED 500 LBS. DIES

CHICAGO, March 3.—Mrs. George A. Kenna, known in circus side-shows for years as "Tribby, the fat lady," is dead here. She quit the circus sixteen years ago, and made her home in Chicago. She weighed 400 pounds when she died, and while with the circus her weight is said to have exceeded 500 pounds. A casket one yard wide and six feet three inches long is being constructed for the body.

TAXES ON COMMON • MAN DROP, IS CLAIM

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—That the tax on the common man really is dropping became apparent here, when Collector of Internal Revenue J. P. Carter announced that no longer does one pay a tax for the privilege of wearing gold or silver ornamental glasses and spectacles. The collector states that the repeal of the "luxury tax" and other tax legislation embodied in the 1921 revenue act is responsible for this change and several other new features in the fine art of taxpaying. You can play your saxophone or cornet without breathing through a tax-liable instrument, since such exaction has been repealed, but you can't write with a gold-tipped fountain pen without the manufacturer paying a tax and probably passing it on to you.

The new regulations in general apply to the excise tax on sales by the manufacturer of automobiles and accessories, cameras, candy, firearms, cigar and cigarette holders, liveries, hunting garments, carpets, rugs, trunks and the like, and the excise tax on works of art and jewelry.

The tax on works of art has been reduced from 10 per cent to 5 per cent. The tax on jewelry and similar articles remains at 5 per cent. The tax on works of art attaches to all sales except the original sale by the artist, a sale to an educational or public art museum, and sales by dealers for resale.

Monthly returns and payments of the tax on works of art and jewelry are required of the vendor, Carter states.

The section of the revenue act of 1921 which in the act of 1918 included the tax on wearing apparel, now provides only for a tax of 5 per cent of the amounts paid in excess of the following prices: Carpets, $5.50 a square yard; rugs, $6 a square yard; trunks, $35 each; valises, traveling bags, suitcases, hatboxes used by travelers, and fitted toilet cases, $25 each; purses, pocketbooks, shopping and handbags, $5 each; portable light fixtures, lamps of all kinds and lamp shades, $10 each, and fans $1 each.

This tax is not payable directly by the purchaser, but by the manufacturer, producer, or importer, who is required to make monthly returns and payment.

SAN DIEGO TO KEEP FAIR BUILDINGS

SAN DIEGO, March 3.—San Diego's famous exposition buildings in Balboa park, known internationally for their beauty, are to be retained intact.

This was decided at a meeting here when over $75,000 was raised in fifteen minutes, to restore the buildings and put them in condition to stand for twenty years.

During that period it is expected to replace them one at a time with permanent structures exact duplicates of the present buildings. Two of the buildings, including the fine California tower, are permanent structures now, and a third has already been restored and converted into a public auditorium. Work on the other buildings will start soon.

ALMOND BLOSSOM TIME IN CONTRA COSTA CO.

CONCORD, March 3.—It's almond blossom time in Contra Costa county. Despite the belief that the exceptionally cold weather just experienced would act as a deterrent to early fruitage, almond trees in Concord are bursting into bloom this week, and indications are that Jack Frost has not accomplished any deadly work with the coming crop.

While there is still danger that a late frost may injure the young blossoms, causing them to fall from the trees before the buds are formed, the growers hereabouts are hopeful that the killing frost season has passed, according to E. A. Malby, whose trees are a riot of bloom.

SACRAMENTO GROWER SIGN TO RAISE RICE

WILLOWS, March 2.—There is a 250,000 acres of land in the Sacramento valley of California, adapted to rice growing, according to R. P. Merritt, president-manager of the California Rice Growers' association, who was in Willows recently. He estimated that if these 250,000 acres were devoted to rice the product would be worth approximately $10,000,000 annually.

At the meeting of rice growers here Merritt signed contracts with growers for a total of 27,000 acres of rice land. They entered into five-year contracts with the association, which, according to Merritt, has as its object the establishment of rice growing as a permanent industry, and stabilizing production and marketing of the product.

OCKTON PIONEER, AGED 103, IS DEAD

STOCKTON, March 3.—Henry Iler, Stockton's oldest citizen, died his home here this afternoon after long illness at the age of 103 years. Iler came to the United States at the age of 17 years, landing at Baltimore, and was a resident of St. Louis during the cholera epidemic of 1848. He cast his first vote in the United States for Franklin Pierce for President in 1852. News of the discovery of gold in California led him and Mrs. Iler to come to the west coast. They sailed down the Mississippi and then by the Nicaragua route to the Pacific where they took a steamer to San Francisco. They came to Stockton by boat in 1857 and Iler had resided here ever since.

RAIN NEW BLOWS IN DRIVE FOR THRIFT DAY

Teachers and pupils in the Santa Ana schools today were completing plans to make Thrift Day, tomorrow a banner day in the history of this city.

Prominent speakers, representing the Kiwanis club and other organizations, drove home the necessity for thrift in addressing the pupils of the various schools.

Some of the students were surprised to learn, from some of the speakers assigned by school authorities to talk to them upon thrift, that remarkable results are possible when a savings account is properly built up.

An interesting table, prepared by the banks of Santa Ana, shows that one may accumulate more than $600 in ten years by depositing one dollar weekly. Money deposited regularly at 4 per cent is compounded semi-annually.

By depositing two dollars weekly a total of $1276 may be accumulated in ten years. While these figures were particularly attractive to the more youthful depositors, there was food for thought for adults as well.

Point Out Money Growth Bankers pointed out that deposits of $5 weekly would result in a bank account of $3,190.22 in ten years. Ten dollars deposited weekly will reach a total of $6,380.47 at the expiration of the ten-year period.

Addressing the pupils of the Washington school today, Stanley Reed, of the Reed Advertising agency, urged the children to cultivate thrift and cited proof of the fact that if the pennies are saved the dollars will take care of themselves.

"I cannot too strongly emphasize the necessity for solid foundations," said Reed. "There are many kinds of thrift, just as there are many forms of conversation."

"We should conserve our money just as the rancher conserves his water supply. We must be frugal and plan for a future that will be big with promise. To do this we should start early in life, cultivating the strongest habits of thrift."

Mushroom, Acorn "Consider the mushroom and the acorn. The mushroom, thriving on dead material, springs up overnight, reaches its growth and falls away. It is born only to die. The acorn, flourishing in good soil, grows slowly but develops steadily. In the end it results in a powerful, upright oak, based upon the proper foundations and destined to live for years."

"Think of the acorn and the oak, and begin now to build for a substantial future. Save the pennies. From these the dollars will grow."

PRYTANEAN FETE PLANS COMPLETE

BERKELEY, March 3.—"The Purple Pandemonium" will house a futuristic mystery at the annual Prytanean fete to be given by members of the Prytanean Honor society in Harmon gymnasium at the University of California. The purple affair will be a huge tent erected within the gymnasium. It is planned, in which a series of dances and vaudeville stunts will be offered. Taking part in the entertainment within the tent will be Miss Ruth Mabey, Miss Janet Comstock, L. V. Edwards, Miss Ruth Phillips, Jack King, Miss Alma Peden and Miss Myrtle Rich.

The work of decorating the huge gymnasium for the fete was begun today. Much of the floor space will be devoted to booths, the arrangement being planned to boost the carnival spirit which will reign at the fete. Five hundred men and women students will take part in the varied program which has been arranged.

The purpose of the organization is for the care and education of orphans or half-orphans, the teaching of trades, agriculture and maintaining and conducting of farms. There is no capital stock issued as the corporation is not formed for profit.

OROVILLE PARTY NEAR DEATH IN AUTO CRASH

CHICO, March 3.—Five Oroville men miraculously escaped serious injury when their automobile turned over three times at the "S" curve at the entrance to Durham.

A tragedy was averted by Durham residents who rushed to the scene and extinguished the flames, which threatened to cremate Carl Steers, the driver, who was pinned beneath the wreckage. The other men were George Steers, Fred Strong, W. T. Stampfli and J. Bridgett.

MEN WHO DARED DEATH HAIL AT SHILOH WILL CELEBRATE

E. T. Langley Issues Call for Veterans of April 6, 1862, to Meet

BANQUET MAKES GOOD

Promise Made to 'Boys' a Year Ago Is to Be Fulfilled

Orange county Civil War veterans who pierced the holocaust of the memorable Federal victory under Grant at Shiloh April 6, 1862, will celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of the historical conflict this year.

"NOTICE—Will all the comrades who fought in the Battle of Shiloh see me within the next two weeks," E. T. Langley.

Almost lost in the classified and section of The Register, that simple little notice carried a direct message to very few homes in the county last night.

The "ranks" are dwindling.

To Renew Acquaintances.

But the "boys in blue" who braved death at Shiloh, what few of them are left, will meet under more peaceful conditions and renew old acquaintances here April 6, 1922, at the home of Mrs. Norbert Lentz, daughter of E. T. Langley, chairman of the entertainment committee of Sedgwick Post, G. A. R., and a veteran of Shiloh.

Langley has issued the summons to the comrades. He promised a banquet to the "boys" last year and he says he will make good. If enough of the veterans respond, Langley intimated today, a Shiloh Post may be organized in the county.

"So far as I know, the only veterans of Shiloh left in Santa Ana," said Langley today, "are Comrades Grigsby, Woodward and Reid, but there may be more and if so I want them to call on me as soon as possible. That goes for the rest of the county."

Fought in the Entire War.

F. S. Houghwout, one of the "boys" who lay badly wounded on the fields of Shiloh for three days before he was removed to a temporary hospital, died here shortly after last year's anniversary of the battle.

Langley was a member of Company H, 14th Iowa Infantry, and fought through the entire war. He was with Grant at Shiloh and was taken prisoner by the Confederates in that battle. He was released after three months.

He was never wounded, although in the skirmish at Old Tom creek in 1864, a bullet found its way into his shoe, raising a blood blister. Thinking he had been struck in the ankle, Langley told a comrade of it as the lines pressed forward.

"Come on, Sergeant, you are only shot in the shoe," Langley said.

Oil Lease Means What It Says, Court Rules In Property Row

When an oil lease states that actual drilling operations must be under way by a certain date else the lease lapses, it means just what it says. That, in brief, is the decision of Superior Judge Z. B. West in an action involving right to possession of property at Huntington Beach.

In the action, Harry T. Nutt was plaintiff and F. A. Andrews defendant. Nutt claimed possession on the ground that drilling operations on his land had not started. It appeared, according to findings filed with County Clerk J. M. Backs, that Nutt leased to Frank Dispalatro, who assigned to R. L. Obarr, who assigned to Andrews. The judge ordered possession be given to Nutt because the provisions of the lease had not been carried out.

'UNKISSED BRIDE'S' MARRIAGE TO L. A. MAN IN SANTA ANA BARED

Miss Daphne Dare, known as the "unkissed bride," and formerly a star in "Flo-Flo" and other Hammerstein successes, was married in Santa Ana to Guy Fulham, 33, a few days ago, it was learned here today. Miss Daphne, whose age was given as 21, gained her unique distinction September 16, 1921, when, in the court of Judge Toland, in Los Angeles, she told of her first marriage.

Seeking annulment of her marriage to Henry Lloyd Monroe, Miss Daphne informed the court that she met Monroe in a Los Angeles cafe, but could not remember what happened after the first introduction.

When restored to her normal condition, she said, she found she was the wife of Monroe. They had been married an hour and no kiss had been given the bride. The court granted an annulment.

As Mr. and Mrs. Fulham the couple will make their home in Los Angeles.

MEXICANS' GATHERING CENSORED BY POLICE

Police officers Smithwick, Kearney and Elliott broke up a little gathering of Mexicans at 1:20 a. m. today near the plant of the Santa Ana Lumber company.

Investigation disclosed that the Mexicans were enjoying a "night out" and had congregated for a little friendly party. The police broke into the limelight as actors and censored the entire affair. The Mexicans made their way homeward.

PHANTOM CRASH SENSATION AT WINTERSBURG

Residents of Town Discuss 'Ghost' Wreck That 'Slew' Mother and Babe

Introducing the phantom automobile crash.

A weird story of how a mother and her babe were killed when two automobiles collided near what is known as the cemetery corner is the latest sensation to stir the residents of Wintersburg.

The report of the ghostly traffic persists in the community, despite the fact that no one there has learned the names of those supposed to have been concerned.

Furthermore, nowhere in official quarters has there been received a report of a fatal accident at Wintersburg.

Lending credence to the theory that the occurrence has to do with ghostly persons, is the fact that Coroner Charles D. Brown was never notified of the case.

Would Have Been Informed.

Had a mother and her child been killed, Brown would have been among the first to be informed, it is pointed out.

And yet, as stated, the rumor continues to be circulated at Wintersburg.

With considerable detail, it is declared that last Sunday evening a man and his wife, with their two little daughters and their babe, were returning in their automobile from Huntington Beach, where they had been visiting friends.

As they reached the cemetery corner, a small sedan collided with their machine, overturning it. The driver of the sedan sped away without stopping.

Two Killed, Is Rumor.

As the result of the collision, it was stated, the woman's neck was broken and the baby was instantly killed.

The story as it is told at Wintersburg states that the number of the sedan was obtained.

And yet, despite all efforts on the part of those who desire to unravel the mystery, it has been impossible to confirm the story, or to learn the names of those involved in the collision.

Which leads to the theory in some quarters at Wintersburg that the occurrence was entirely of the ghostly variety.

BANDITS GET $30,000 IN BANK ROBBERY

INDIANAPOLIS, March 3.—Five armed bandits held up and robbed a branch of the Fletcher Savings and Trust company and escaped with $30,000 in cash. Three of the men entered the bank and struck H. A. Vechold, the assistant manager, on the head as he was closing the door to a vault.

The haberdashery thief has made his appearance at the Standard Oil company's pipe line department at Huntington Beach. After his appearance he made his departure with five suits of clothes, an overcoat and a leather suitcase that contained numerous shirts and collars, all property of employees of the oil company.

Report of the theft was made here today to City Marshal Sam Jernigan. Officials of the Standard Oil company say they saw a stranger driving around in a small coupe. Soon afterward the clothing was missed.

Included in the loot were one green suit, size 38; one dark blue suit, size 38; a dark blue striped suit, size 36; one brown suit with red stripe, size 38; a blue overcoat, size 36, a tan leather suitcase.

The orchestra is composed of representative players of Anaheim, Brea, Fullerton, La Habra, Orange and Placentia. The board of directors includes the Rev. Frank Dowling, Placentia; J. Charles Thamer, Fullerton; Charles N. Shirley, La Habra; Percy Richards, Orange, and C. E. Tozier, Anaheim.

Band Will Lead Bible Class to Meeting

With the expectation of having 1,000 in attendance at the Men's Bible class next Sunday morning at Birch park, officials of the Santa Ana organization today were making final preparations for handling the turnout.

According to plans announced today, the Orange County Automobile Trades association band will give a concert at the corner of Fourth and Main streets at 8:45 a. m. and will lead the class in a parade to the park at 9 a. m.

Santa Ana now holds a lead of 170 over the Fullerton class in the inter-city rivalry. Both organizations were making efforts today to arrange the best programs possible in order to win the banner. The attendance race closes with Sunday's meetings.

James H. Foley, of Pasadena, well known humorist, will be the principal speaker at Santa Ana and Charley Paddock, world's champion sprinter, will give an address at Fullerton.

Freeman H. Bloodgood, president of the Santa Ana Realty board, will give a short current topics talk here. Music will be supplied by the Lions club orchestra, led by Maurice Phillips, by Julius Matthews, cornetist, and by Miss Westfall.

Arrangements have been made whereby automobiles will go out on the city streets as usual to pick up persons who live so far out that walking would be impossible.

STAGE SET FOR BIG BATTLE IN TEXCAL OIL

Stockholders dissatisfied with conditions as they are declared to obtain in connection with the operation of the Texcal Oil company were preparing today to assemble at the city council chamber here at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Persons in Santa Ana and other Orange county cities and in Long Beach who own stock in the company were ready either to enter into or listen to discussions of points which are being freely debated and which may lead to a legal battle in the courts to force the board of directors to rescind a contract entered into with James O'Donnell.

O'Donnell is vice-president of the company. Stockholders who have read the contract, which is of record at the recorder's office at the court house, declare that it provides that O'Donnell shall receive 60 per cent of the oil the company is producing at Huntington Beach, with the 16.23 per cent royalty and cost of drilling the well coming out of the 40 per cent which the stockholders are to receive.

It is asserted that O'Donnell sublet a drilling contract to the Federal Drilling company, and that a well was brought in that is now producing 500 barrels a day.

"Where do we get off, under the contract?" seems to be the burden of the complaint of the dissatisfied stockholders.

BANKERS' VIEWS ON TEN-SPOT'S GROWTH TOLD

Tenner Borrowed In 1897 Piles Up 304 Trillions In Interest

An innocent little ten-dollar bill can cause a lot of grief when it is coupled with compound interest.

George Jones of San Jose found this out to his sorrow.

It seems that Jones stood in need of ten dollars on January 13, 1897.

Henry B. Stuart supplied the ten-spot on condition that Jones would pay interest at the rate of ten per cent monthly.

Jones, it appears, could not begin to realize that a matter of a few years would multiply the original loan until it reached the staggering total of $304,840,322.912.16. A mere matter of trillions!

Yet it could be done, and it was done. Stuart charged that Jones disappeared after borrowing the ten-spot. Recently he reappeared in San Jose and Stuart brought suit.

The court found for Stuart, named the huge figure given in the foregoing, and said that it was the only judgment he could return under the circumstances.

Seeks Bankruptcy

Whereupon counsel for Jones said that his client expected to seek refuge in bankruptcy proceedings.

"Well, bankruptcy was his only hope," said Alex Brownridge, cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' Savings bank here, when asked for an expert opinion on this transaction in high finance.

"Can it be done? Almost anything can be done when you become involved in the intricacies of compound interest."

Here the cashier turned and picked up an innocent-looking little chart, neatly arranged in squares.

"See that?" he demanded. "Well, now we're going to talk in grains of corn. You will notice that the first square is marked 1, the next 2, the next 4, then 8, 16, 32, 63 and 128.

There are sixty-four squares.

"If you were to place one grain of corn in the first square, two on the second, four on the third, eight on the fourth, and so on up to 128 on the eighth, doubling all the time, until the squares were completely filled, how many grains of corn do you suppose you would have?"

"You may be surprised to find that this process, if faithfully carried out, would result in carloads, and the total number of carloads, it doesn't take a John Stuart Mill to figure it out, when we get right down to brass tacks, and we are safe in saying that in the end we would have enough carloads to reach around the world some fifteen times.

Interest Works

"Seems incredible?" Well, doubtless that's what friend Jones thought when they began piling up those staggering figures against him at San Jose. Such are the workings of compound interest. You see, they were compounding on him at ten per cent monthly. They say he expects to go into bankruptcy. I'll say there was nothing else for him to do. Therein lies his only salvation."

Other Santa Ana banking experts, while admitting that compound interest is shot through with potentialities, were inclined to question the figures.

"It may be true," said W. B. Williams, cashier of the First National bank, "but that's a lot of money to pay for the loan of a ten-dollar bill. If compound interest did that to Jones, the only course left open to him was to rush into bankruptcy."

E. H. Richards, vice president of the American National bank, said he felt very sympathetic toward any man who was confronted by the possibility of paying this much interest, but admitted a profound respect for the working of compound interest.

"Of course, there was a chance that the debt might have been outlawed," said Richards, "but if not, Jones seems to be in the middle of a tight fix. A man needs a robust constitution when he is obliged to stagger along under the weight of a debt like that."

RABIES FEARED FROM BITE OF COYOTE

AMADEE, Cal., Mar. 3.—Mike Tellechea, a Lassen county sheep herder living near here, has gone to Reno to take treatment for rabies, after being severely bitten by a suspected hydrophobic coyote.

Tellechea was attacked in the open while unarmed, and to save his life it was necessary to throttle the beast with his bare hands. While his legs were protected by heavy chaps, his hands and arms were severely bitten and scratched in the encounter.

WOMEN MEN ADMIRE

Men admire a pretty face, a good figure, but more than all a buoyant disposition and the charm of happy content. There is no question but what a light-hearted woman is the joy of a man's life, but no woman can be happy and joyful when dragged down by the ailments that so often develop headaches, backache, nervousness and "the blues."

SUGAR BEET MEN EXPECT HEAVY CROP RETURN IN COUNTY FOR YEAR

February Weather Condition Make March Important Month In Planting

MILLS WILL START LATE

Growers Anticipate Average of More Than Ten Tons to Acre of Ground

Seventy-five per cent of the sugar beet acreage in Orange county to be planted for the 1922 season is yet to be seeded, according to the statement today of a man closely identified with the industry in this county.

Weather conditions in February interfered with planting with the result that March this year will become the month of high pressure in preparing ground and seeding. Late planting will be reflected at the end of the growing season by starting operations of the sugar mills of the county at a correspondingly later period.

According to the authority, the sugar factories of the county will handle the product of between 25,000 to 30,000 acres, with the product of approximately 3000 acres outside of the county being brought in. Some acreage in this county will be planted to beets for factories in other Southern California counties.

It was observed by the sugar beet man that in past years when heavy rains and floods have prevailed, crop yields have been big and he is anticipating good tonnage returns this season. In his opinion the average for the county will be better than ten tons to the acre.

"Beet growers are facing a favorable year," he said. "Conditions are such as to warrant the prediction that growers will get good returns. Labor is plentiful and of the better class, and this is a feature that is going to have an important bearing on the development and harvesting of this season's crop. Prospects for fair prices on sugar are good. The local product will be cleared off the market before the new product is ready."

The dance that was to have been held at El Toro March 4 has been postponed until a later date on account of the flu. Signed the committee.

FARRAND'S NEW HISTORY IS IN BOOK LIST

"Development of the United States," written by Max Farrand, former head of the history department of Stanford university, one of the best known living historians, is one of twenty-nine new non-fiction books just added to the shelves of the Santa Ana library.

A number of the new books deal with American history. Some of them touch upon Japanese questions, one of them, "Mysterious Japan," being by the well-known writer, Julian Street.

The names of the authors, the titles of each book and a statement of the publishers concerning each book, follows:

New Non-Fiction
Max Beerbohm—"Seven Men." "The book is a delight from cover to cover."
Ralph Berggren—"The Seven Ages of Man." "Merry musings from babyhood to the 'very old man' and including the gentle landlord stage."

W. S. Braithwaite—"Anthology of magazine verse for 1921."
Clarence Day jr.—"This Simion World." "One of the best pieces of satire from the pen of an American."
Max Farrand—"Development of the United States." "A history of the United States that gives an entirely new conception of our development, that treats our foreign relations with strict impartiality, and that illuminates from a new angle our present position as a belligerent."

J. L. Ford—"Forty-odd years in the Literary Shop." "These memoirs of an inconspicuous career will not deal with my own accomplishments but with the men and women whom I have known. And so the author rambles charmingly of forty-odd years among well known editors, actors and playwrights."

H. B. Fosdick—"The Meaning of Service." "Arranged for daily interpretations and prayer and with a weekly chapter of comment."
Rosita Forbes—"The Secret of the Sahara; Kufara." "The story of a woman's adventure, of the hairbreadth escapes, dangers, her life as a veiled Arab woman and her return to civilization is one of the most exciting and romantic tales imaginable."

Waldo Frank—"Our America." "A notable volume of criticism. The first courageous diagnosis of our weakness. Like a skillful surgeon, points out how we may be healed."

L. R. Freeman—"Down the Columbia." "In the account of this joyous boat trip the author has accomplished his desire to 'pass on to by readers some of the keenness of my own enjoyment of what I experienced on the Columbia.'"
C. G. Gilbert—"America's Power Resources." "A collection into book form of papers on investigations at the Smithsonian institution regarding the importance and conservation of natural resources."

Sydney Greenbie—"The Pacific Triangle." "A good book to start with for understanding the problems of the Pacific disengagement," says the Chicago Daily News, "since with the humans interest of Greenbie's books a comprehension of the nature and problems of the people is given without any burden of statistics."

Francis Hackett—"The Invisible Censor." "The invisible censor, a better if not a thicker book than 'Horizons.' If you have read one you will want to read the other—and that is all that need be said of its quality."

'BANDBOX' PLAYERS HAILED AS ARTISTS

By FRANCES DEANER.
It is, indeed, a rare privilege the student body of the Santa Ana high school is extending to lovers of worth while spoken drama tonight when the Bandbox Players, of New York City, will appear at the high school auditorium in four one-act plays.

This assertion is based on the artistic performances and altogether satisfying productions presented by the Bandbox Players yesterday afternoon at the high school before an audience of students, faculty members and the press.

In the three productions, "Food," "Dress" and "Q," every character was vividly portrayed. The casts have been selected with painstaking care and there is a well-balanced perfection in the acting.

Naomi Bailey, leading lady, is a slender, dark-eyed, raven-haired girl, who brings to the players the wealth of her knowledge and experience gained at the Little Theater and the Theater Workshop in New York. Miss Bailey is not only an excellent actress, but also directs and produces the Bandbox plays. Her sets for "Food" and "Q" are the epitome of simplicity, yet so colorful they remind one of Maxfield Parrish paintings.

The setting for "Dress," in its attention to sordid details, is reminiscent of David Belasco—yet—having seen Miss Bailey's exquisite impersonations yesterday, I feel the sets are "just Naomi Bailey"—another expression of her art, that is.

Flawless Performances.
Playing opposite Miss Bailey is Wheeler Dryden, distinguished actor, formerly of the British stage. Dryden impressed me as giving three absolutely flawless performances in three distinctly different roles, reaching the greatest histrionic heights in the role of the desperate, down-trodden Jim in "Dress." His George Gnoof in "Q" is a remarkable character study which Dryden adorns with some fine, distinctive and delicious touches.

Frank Crayne gave two good interpretations; Harry Kenneth delineated two small parts satisfactorily and little Betty Hall, little daughter of Harry H. Hall, manager of the Bandbox Players, lent reality to a vital situation in "Dress."

In short—the Bandbox Players are a company of artists and their appearance here is a triumph, not only for the players but also for the student body of the high school, through whose enterprise the attraction was booked here.

Following is a list of the one-act plays to be given tonight, and the personnel of the players:
"Poor Old Jim," a comedy by William C. De Mille with Wheeler Dryden as Jim; Florence MacAfee as Marie, his wife; Frank Crayne as Paul, the doctor. Scene—Living room in Jim's house, New York City. Time—the present.

"Lonesome-Like," a comedy-drama by Harold Brighouse, with Florence MacAfee as Sarah Omerod; Naomi Bailey as Emma Brerly; Frank Crayne as Sam Harrocks and Wheeler Dryden as the Rev. Frank Alleyne. Scene—A room in Sarah Omerod's cottage, Lancashire, England. Time—the present.

"Dawn," a drama by Percival Wilds, with Naomi Bailey as The Woman; Wheeler Dryden as The Doctor; Frank Crayne as The Man and Betty Hall as The Child. Scene—a room in a hut in the mining camp. Time—the present.

MEXICO SEEN AS OPPORTUNITY WONDERLAND

By FRANCES DEANER.
It is, indeed, a rare privilege the student body of the Santa Ana high school is extending to lovers of worth while spoken drama tonight when the Bandbox Players, of New York City, will appear at the high school auditorium in four one-act plays.

This assertion is based on the artistic performances and altogether satisfying productions presented by the Bandbox Players yesterday afternoon at the high school before an audience of students, faculty members and the press.

In the three productions, "Food," "Dress" and "Q," every character was vividly portrayed. The casts have been selected with painstaking care and there is a well-balanced perfection in the acting.

Naomi Bailey, leading lady, is a slender, dark-eyed, raven-haired girl, who brings to the players the wealth of her knowledge and experience gained at the Little Theater and the Theater Workshop in New York. Miss Bailey is not only an excellent actress, but also directs and produces the Bandbox plays. Her sets for "Food" and "Q" are the epitome of simplicity, yet so colorful they remind one of Maxfield Parrish paintings.

The setting for "Dress," in its attention to sordid details, is reminiscent of David Belasco—yet—having seen Miss Bailey's exquisite impersonations yesterday, I feel the sets are "just Naomi Bailey"—another expression of her art, that is.

Flawless Performances.
Playing opposite Miss Bailey is Wheeler Dryden, distinguished actor, formerly of the British stage. Dryden impressed me as giving three absolutely flawless performances in three distinctly different roles, reaching the greatest histrionic heights in the role of the desperate, down-trodden Jim in "Dress." His George Gnoof in "Q" is a remarkable character study which Dryden adorns with some fine, distinctive and delicious touches.

Frank Crayne gave two good interpretations; Harry Kenneth delineated two small parts satisfactorily and little Betty Hall, little daughter of Harry H. Hall, manager of the Bandbox Players, lent reality to a vital situation in "Dress."

In short—the Bandbox Players are a company of artists and their appearance here is a triumph, not only for the players but also for the student body of the high school, through whose enterprise the attraction was booked here.

Following is a list of the one-act plays to be given tonight, and the personnel of the players:
"Poor Old Jim," a comedy by William C. De Mille with Wheeler Dryden as Jim; Florence MacAfee as Marie, his wife; Frank Crayne as Paul, the doctor. Scene—Living room in Jim's house, New York City. Time—the present.

"Lonesome-Like," a comedy-drama by Harold Brighouse, with Florence MacAfee as Sarah Omerod; Naomi Bailey as Emma Brerly; Frank Crayne as Sam Harrocks and Wheeler Dryden as the Rev. Frank Alleyne. Scene—A room in Sarah Omerod's cottage, Lancashire, England. Time—the present.

"Dawn," a drama by Percival Wilds, with Naomi Bailey as The Woman; Wheeler Dryden as The Doctor; Frank Crayne as The Man and Betty Hall as The Child. Scene—a room in a hut in the mining camp. Time—the present.

"Q," a farce by Stephen Leacock, with Frank Crayne as Jack Annerly; Wheeler Dryden as George Gnoof; Harry Kenneth as Blight and Florence MacAfee as Dora Dnieper. Scene—a room in Jack Annerly's apartment. Time—the present.

MEXICO SEEN AS OPPORTUNITY WONDERLAND

Golden opportunity in Mexico awaits American agriculturists, according to Harry W. Lewis, president of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association and farm operator, who was home today from a month's tour of the republic. W. D. Baker, proprietor of Baker's bakery, who accompanied him, also returned with him late yesterday afternoon.

Americans in the republic believe conditions are right for a big advancement in the agricultural development of that country, according to Lewis. He says that they are tugging at the leash and that recognition of the Obregon government by the United States will be the electric spark that will send that country bounding into an activity and development that will surprise and awaken the sleepy natives from their sluggishness and disposition to put everything off until "manana"—tomorrow.

Wonderfully Rich
"Mexico is a wonderfully rich country in mines and agricultural land," said Lewis. "The mining operations are extensive now. Americans feel that just as soon as the government is recognized by the United States there will be a great development in agriculture. Thousands of Americans have looked the field over and are ready to go the instant that recognition is granted. I saw more large bodies of rich lands than I ever saw in my life. All that is needed to make them productive is the development of water."

Develops 3000 Acres
The company has developed 3000 acres and is raising corn, beans, tomatoes, horses and mules. Water is being pumped from the Culiacan river. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Roberts at Mochis, where Roberts is operating a big sugar cane and alfalfa ranch. Roberts is a son-in-law of Ed Utt, of Tustin, and formerly resided here, where he attended high school.

They were near the mining property of El Fuerte Mining company, of which A. M. McDermott, of this city, is superintendent, when Lewis received a telegram advising him of the serious illness in Santa Ana of his mother, who died last night.

A vacant room becomes valuable when listed in the Want Ads.

Teaching Spanish in the Register Night Classes and in Santa Ana 'High'

As two months of the five months' term outlined for The Register's Night Spanish Classes, conducted by Prof. Chamberlain of the high school, have passed, some report of the work of teaching Spanish, both in these classes and in the high school may be in order.

There are seven classes, two advanced and five beginners. The advanced classes meet from six to seven p. m., on Monday and Tuesday. The Monday class uses for its text Advanced Woman's History; the Tuesday, Appleton's History of America in the Castilian. None of these "advanced" students with one exception, has taken any other Spanish than the course offered last year under The Register's management. These students compare favorably in conversational ability with high school students who have taken an equal number of hours. The public school pupils do more written work and translating, to cover the required matter, while The Register classes have more conversation, and hence possess a smaller vocabulary.

Method of Teaching.
As for the beginners classes, the method adopted this year provides for a program something like this: Assembling of class; short review of last week's vocabulary; dividing class into groups of two and placing each group at a small counter for ten or fifteen minutes of conversation bearing on one line of goods. These counters are made of pasteboard, and distributed over the classroom, which is about 50 by 125 feet—Lawrence Hall. The students have the special vocabulary in their note books, made out the week before, as well as printed in large type on a chart hung at the side of the "store."

The teacher goes from one store to another, listening to the conversation between clerk and customer. If any one doubts the efficacy of this system, he has but to come to the school any Monday or Tuesday night to see for himself. "While this may not be the best way to learn to translate Spanish literature," says Prof. Chamberlain, "I am convinced it is the most practical plan to help the busy, and often ungrammatical grown-up to get a little useable every-day Spanish."

The latter part of the evening's study is spent with the class seated before the blackboard reading from their books, and drilling on the few commonplace verbs which they will need in daily life; such as ser, estar, tener, querer, poder. We have had thus far a grocery store, a meat market, a shoe store, and have worked out a list of prepositions and adjectives most needed in business lines. Our next lesson will take up the vocabulary needed by a dentist or doctor. Drill on counting, adding, subtracting, etc., is held daily in every beginner's class.

Spanish in High School.
"It may be of interest to you to know something of this group plan of reciting, as I am applying it to the high school classes," said Prof. Chamberlain. "There, a student has recitations five days a week, and is required to study, and naturally much more can be accomplished.

"When a student enters the classroom door, he waits till another appears, and, in Spanish, carries out a conversation, or formula, which is kept on the blackboard close to the entrance until it is committed to memory, when a new formula is posted. Both students go to the seat of the first. With the two standing, they hold a conversation, in Spanish, on the special theme assigned the day before. The best five students in the room constitute an "inspection force" to see that the groups are talking Spanish. This takes two minutes. The two then sit down, each in his own seat, and make a "story" in Spanish of their conversation, in a note book, which they keep on their desks. In the four minutes allotted for this some students write 150 to 200 words. A new student each day is called to the front to make a speech on his "theme" while the others write, as a dictation, what he is saying. This lasts two minutes, and his name is placed on a "well-delivered speech" chart which hangs on the wall, if he has spoken fluently. Mistakes? Of course they make mistakes in grammar, but that's the way to learn. And they are learning to talk Spanish. They want to talk. Everything about the class work encourages conversation. Wilkin's text book is especially adapted to my work. The author has ideal questionnaires attached to each lesson in the text book, and the lessons themselves are packed full of practical sentences easily remembered because put into fascinating story form. The grammar essentials are given in bold faced type which assist the pupil to remember what is generally slighted and forgotten.

Teaches History Also.
"Each day I give my students, in every class, a talk in English, on some theme, such as "Peru," "the Amazon," "Honduras," "Cuba," "The Moors in Spain," "The Bull Fight," etc., but all these are connected into story form, giving them a history of Spain and the Spanish colonies. My five minute talk is followed by opening out a synopsis of that talk in Spanish, (which I keep covered during the talk) on which they have to make five or six sentences, or questions, in Spanish. These papers form the basis for tomorrow's conversations, in groups of two, as they enter the door.

In this way their lessons become so interesting that we cover the required lesson in from 20 minutes to a half hour, leaving a few minutes, required by the school, for analysis and study of the next day's lesson in the text book.

Special Program Provided.
All day Thursday of this week studies were laid aside, and the pupils of each class gave programs, consisting of playlets, the dramatization of selections from their texts, "map talks," etc. Two classes dramatized "Fortuna," the story required as reading the first year. The dog was furnished by the Shafter Music Co.—the one who "knows his master's voice,"—doll, by Mrs. Sally Powell's daughter; a washtub, an improvised photographer's camera, and a dozen other objects were contributed to make a theater "Zarzuela." Bed sheets strung on a wire furnished an ideal curtain, while two of the biggest boys in each class acted as stage hands. A phonograph furnished Spanish music while the scenes were changed.

Visitors from other classes were allowed only by ticket. Among the teachers present was Dr. Rush, head of the Modern Language department of the Redondo high school, who made a talk on the program and also visited other language teachers in our high school. Three young men from Honduras appeared in the scene called "La Sonorita Fotografa" and brought down the "house" with their conversation while having a picture taken.

Those Who Participated.
Without any attempt to place them in the special periods or programs we give the names of students who took part in the day's festivities: Harold Kyle, "Don Salvador;" Glover Hendrickson as "Juanito;" William Luck, as "Cachucha;" Harold Klye and Harold Cocroft, as "Don Salvador;" in the two "Fortuna" plays; Glover Hendrickson and Harold Harrison, as "Juanito;" William Luck and Keith Beisel, as "Cachucha;" Mildred Livenspire and Eva York, as "washwomen."

In other plays were: Gertrude Beese, Edna Dickson, Muriel Hilgers, Helen Hudkins, Elizabeth Miller in a talk on "Mexico," Cecile Russell, Elsie Wilson and Amy Wilson, Albert Byler, Milton Davis in Spanish Jokes, Carmen Stevens in map talk. In the first year classes: Claudio Bolton, Don Bonn, Ruth Clewett, Carroll Brskine, Rollo Hays, Miss Boyd Loplín, Roy Le Bar, Ogden Mayhall, Geneva Moore, Emily McClain, George Randel, Dorothy Adams, Walter Cook, Evelyn Farnsworth, Paul McClelland, Grace Wells, Evangeline Cochems, Ruby Dodd, Rex Hoover, Harold Hendrie, Mathilde Gov, Russell Noland, Genevieve Orr, Lillian Davignon.

The most of these have had but six months' of Spanish; the others are in their third semester, or tenth month. These young people, at the close of this year, will have a knowledge of Spanish history, the explorations and colonies, the patriots, the chief writers of Spanish speaking countries, the products and general characteristics of all countries once owned by Spain, and should be qualified to undertake advanced Spanish work, if they go on with this subject in high school.

Fraternal Brotherhood
With James Ryan directing the evening's frivolity, members of the Fraternal Brotherhood last night had a royal good time at their hard-times party at the M. W. A. hall. Among the dozens of poorly-clad individuals who gathered for the program of old-fashioned dances promised, none were seedier or raggeder than Mrs. Floyd Turner and Mr. S. E. Deck, so to them was awarded the palm which in this case took the form of handsome card cases in leather, one for each. Excellent music and the gaiety of the quaint old-time dances introduced, yielded a pleasant and long to be remembered evening.

Woman's Society
Meeting in regular session Wednesday afternoon at the First Methodist church, the Woman's Missionary society of that church held a most interesting meeting presided over by Mrs. S. M. Davis. Mrs. W. D. Baker led the devotional service choosing for her reading, Mathew, tenth chapter, comparing the work of the present day missionary societies with that of the disciples and emphasizing the idea of service. Mrs. Davis spoke of the recent dedication of the new building of the Frances De Pauw school in Los Angeles, of the many enconiums given in regard to the buildings and equipment and of the pleasing fact that no pleas or calls had to be made for funds. Miss Blanche Collings, who had charge of the program, gave an excellent synopsis of the sixth chapter of the study book, the subject being, "Home Missions and the World of Work." Mrs. McGarraugh, in a most interesting manner, told of the wonderful success which the Nash Clothing company had in their business after making practical application of the "Golden Rule." The members repeated the slogan for the W. A. M. S. for this year—"20 per cent increase all the way through in membership, money and magazines, too, for 1921-1922."

PUBLIC UTILITY FUND DRIVE IS BUREAU PLAN

Adopting the suggestion made at yesterday's directors' meeting by State President W. H. Walker, the executive committee of the Orange county farm bureau was today preparing to meet a team of paid solicitors, to make plans for the conducting of a campaign to secure funds for public utility work during the coming year.

Announcement of the choice of committees for the coming year was made yesterday afternoon by President J. R. Schofield. A unique feature of this announcement was the fact that every member of the board of directors was named on some committee.

The report of secretary manager Flaherty showed a total membership of 1515. Fullerton led with 156 members, Anaheim 130, Villa Park 128, West Orange 132, and Tustin and Garden Grove each 114. The remaining number is in the other centers.

Suggestions as to the time of meeting for the committees and the directors were made in Flaherty's report, and accepted by the directors. President Walker told of his experiences at the national capital, and described his attendance at various meetings connected with the fight being waged by the farm bloc.

Prairie Farm Bureaus President Walker told of the great influence which the farm bureau had exerted in public utility affairs, and urged the continuance of effort along those lines. He said that nationally prominent farm bureau officials had acclaimed the work of the California public utilities committees the outstanding features of the year's work in farm bureau affairs of the nation.

He pointed out the benefits of having paid solicitors do the work of gathering funds to further the cause of the public utilities departments, and urged that Orange county make arrangements to conduct such a campaign here soon.

As a result the directors voted to allow the executive committee to confer with the solicitors next Tuesday and to start the campaign next Wednesday.

Following are the committees appointed by President Schofield:

Auditing committee—W. M. Belding, A. E. Block and H. H. Clark.

"Whang! Whang! Whang! Whang!"

This is not the beginning of a report of a bombardment, but is merely the opening paragraph in the smashing of four automobiles on the Chapman street bridge yesterday as the result of an attempt on the part of an automobile driver to drive with one hand and eat his lunch with the other.

At least, the driver of a machine owned by the Brodin Milling company of Los Angeles told Sheriff Jackson that it was the lunch-eating effort that caused the wreckage.

The Brodin car was compelled to slow down, says the report to the sheriff. C. E. Beck of Orange was just to the rear, and was unable to stop, so he turned out to his left to pass the Brodin car. Buck met a third car driven by C. A. Hess and belonging to the Jevne company of Los Angeles, bumped it and threw it into the Brodin machine.

Just at that moment along came George Dunton of Anaheim, and Dunton did not have space enough in which to stop, and his car ran into one of the trio already in the mix-up.

All of the cars were more or less damaged.

MRS. S. M. LEWIS IS SUMMONED BY DEATH

Funeral services will be held at the Smith and Tuthill chapel tomorrow at 2 p. m. for Mrs. Susan M. Lewis, pioneer Santa Ana resident, who died last night at her home, 203 South Main street, at the age of 77 years.

Mrs. Lewis came to Santa Ana thirty-five years ago this month and has been a resident here ever since. The Rev. J. A. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will officiate at the services. Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

She is survived by four daughters and three sons, Mrs. W. E. Cowan and George E. Lewis, Tustin; Mrs. L. D. Mercereau, Mrs. D. A. Bear, Miss Bessie Lewis and Harry W. Lewis, Santa Ana; and Dr. A. B. Lewis, of Chicago. All of the children, except Dr. Lewis, were present when the angel of mercy relieved the patient from her suffering.

Harry Lewis reached home from Mexico a few hours before death occurred. He received a telegram advising of his mother's serious illness when he was in the mountains seventy miles from a railroad. It took him nearly a week to reach Santa Ana.

Mrs. Lewis, with her husband and family, came to Santa Ana from Clifton, Ohio, in March, 1887, locating on the corner of Main and Walnut in the residence in which she passed away. Mr. Lewis engaged in farming and nursery work here. He died in 1908.

Mrs. Lewis was an active and faithful member of the First Presbyterian church and was a regular attendant at church and Sunday school. Up to the first of January, when her health began to fail, she had missed attending Sunday school but once in two years.

A sweet and lovable woman, she was dear to the hearts of hosts of friends in Santa Ana.

W. P. WILKES, PIONEER, IS CALLED

As a result of a stroke of paralysis, death came last Friday in Kern county to W. P. Wilkes, for more than sixty years a resident of Kern county and one of the organizers and builders of the San Joaquin county. Had he lived until March 23 he would have been 80 years old. Mr. Wilkes was a brother of Joseph A. Wilkes, East Santa Clara avenue, Santa Ana.

Joseph A. Wilkes, a pioneer here, returned today from Bakersfield, where the funeral was held.

The two brothers were members of a family that came across the plains by ox teams in 1856. As young men, Perry and Joseph Wilkes went to Kern county, in 1861, and each had a prominent part in organizing Kern county out of Tulare county five years later. At one time Perry Wilkes was auditor of Kern county. For half a century, he lived in Linns valley, where he was engaged in stock raising. Joseph Wilkes came to this county in 1881.

The Kern county pioneer died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert R. McGee. He left two daughters and a son.

SCOUTS PREPARE FOR BIG HIKE TO PARK

Boy Scouts numbering between 100 and 150 will participate in the hike to Orange county park tomorrow. It was estimated today by Rowland Dye scout executive.

The boys will meet at the Pacific Electric depot in Orange at 8 a. m. tomorrow morning and will walk from there to the Orange county park. The hike will be for boys of districts two and three, embracing Orange and Santa Ana and the territory south of Santa Ana.

It is expected that the distance will be covered in two hours. Following arrival at the park, examinations and tests will be conducted by Victor E. Teaney, assistant scout executive. Robert Northcross, of the county forestry department, will interest the boys in the memorial drive project, which is to be dedicated by the scouts to Orange county men who were killed in the World war. Tree planting also will be explained to the boys.

Each scout is expected to take a lunch, gathering at the pavilion at noon for lunch. A feature of the afternoon will be a treasure hunt. Teaney was at the park today and hid a treasure. Maps giving directions to the spot where the treasure is hidden will be given the lads and from these they will endeavor to locate the trophy. It is expected the boys will return to Orange by 6 p. m.

FULLERTON GETS FAME IN L. A. BAT STORY

Even the city editor of a metropolitan newspaper fell for it. "Deadly bats at depot," reads the "head" over a Fullerton story printed in a Los Angeles newspaper.

"A pair of fierce red Ynuoc Egnaro bats are at the Santa Fe baggage room in Fullerton awaiting a claimant," says the story, under a Fullerton date-line.

"This species of bat is said to be very deadly, not more than one well-directed blow from one of them being necessary to cause death. They arrived at the Santa Fe station in a small crate, without any ticket bearing the name of either consignor or consignee. The railroad men are in a quandary and eagerly await a claimant for the strange freight."

Story is "Batty" Today Station Agent Reed was fairly shaking with merriment. It seems that someone "planted" the bats in the station and then notified a Fullerton newspaper. The story was printed and scores hid themselves to the depot to see the "fierce red creatures," reputed to be so very deadly.

Meanwhile, the station agent had visions of city editors ruffling their hair and consulting library statistics to find out just what in creation these Ynuoc Egnaro bats were, where they came from, and how. These "pesky critters" constituted a dark mystery for the out-of-town city editors. But to Reed and those "in the know," it was no mystery at all.

Between chuckles today, Reed gave the whole thing away. The two deadly "varmints" were just plain, unadorned red bricks.

"Quite harmless when undisturbed," said Reed, "but very deadly when thrown. The name, Ynuoc Egnaro? Aw, that's simple. Just spell the words backwards."

FORD TELLS WHY HE HAS FAITH IN TRACTOR

The reason why I believe that the tractor has a great future ahead of it is because I believe that it will increase happiness and make life more worth the living for more people throughout the world than any other device which has ever been given to mankind.

I believe it will make farming what it ought to be—the most pleasant, the most healthful and the most profitable business in the world.

This may at first appear like an exaggeration, but when you think what the tractor will do for millions of people all over the world, it doesn't seem so.

Compare the Chinese coolie who works 14 to 16 hours a day carrying great loads and who drops down exhausted, in his hotel for a few hours' sleep only to awake and repeat the daily grind—compare him with the American manufacturer or workman who labors eight to ten hours a day unusually under comparatively pleasant conditions and then goes home with from 14 to 16 hours out of the 24 in which to sleep, improve himself and enjoy life.

The difference between the two is this. The coolie is working under the same condition that men worked under thousands of years ago, before they began to use their brains to devise machines and harness power to work for them so that they might produce more than they could with their hands alone.

The coolie earns little and must work long hours because he produces little with his physical strength unaided by power and machinery.

The American workman earns more and works fewer hours because power and machinery enable him to produce more.

As a result he gets more of the things that he wants and more time in which to enjoy them. The coolie gets none of the things he wants with the exception of enough food and shelter to enable him to eke out a mere existence. And he gets no time in which to enjoy life.

In every age and in every section of the world the happiness and prosperity of the people, generally speaking, can be measured by their success in devising machines and harnessing power so that each individual can produce more with less effort.

Of course there have been exceptions to this rule. In every age and in every country there have been a certain class who have been able to live idly and even luxuriously at the expense of the producing class. But I am speaking of the great class of real producers.

Then again, in modern times the producers have not always received the benefits of the increased production which machinery and power have made possible. Too often the larger percentage of these profits have gone into the pockets of the few men who happen to own the power and the machines.

But this is being rapidly corrected.

The life of a plowman and the joys of his existence may be poetic—to a poet a long way off. But there is nothing more tiresome—more deadening to the mind and ambition than to tramp mile after mile and hour after hour in a furrow following a slow moving team of horses with only an occasional whack in the ribs from the plow handles to vary the monotony.

This is not theory with me for I was born and raised on a farm and have followed the plow many a weary mile. I have been both a farmer and a manufacturer. So I know what advantage power and machinery have given to the latter. Can you imagine anything more wasteful or inefficient than for an intelligent man to be compelled to spend days and days following a slow moving team without a chance in the world of using his brains or his initiative to speed up that work beyond the leisurely rate at which the horses choose to navigate?

And at the end of the day what has he to show for his 12 to 14 hours of labor? An acre or two of ground plowed up.

Is it any wonder that farmers and farm workers have left the farms where they could get neither the things they want or the time to enjoy them and have gone to the city where by the aid of power and machinery have been able to produce more and thus to get more of the things they want and more leisure to enjoy life?

Then again the farmer has been under a disadvantage in this. He has been compelled to produce the things which he sells in the cities by those inefficient methods. On the other hand, he has been compelled to buy the things he wants from the cities—clothes, household furnishings and utilities, farm machinery, etc., from manufacturers who produce efficiently with the aid of power and machines.

But the tractor will change all this.

cient, economical sources of power in the world—the internal combustion engine.

The tractor will multiply the productive capacity of each individual farm worker from 3 to 4 times over.

It will put the farmer on a par with the city manufacturer. It will put his produce producing factory for that is what a farm is—onto an efficient production basis.

It will enable each worker to earn so much more that he can be paid more and still leave a greater profit for the man who hires him. It will enable the farmer to work fewer hours in the day, giving him more time to enjoy life.

The tractor will help solve the food problem and this is one of the most serious problems which confronts the world today.

The tractor will solve the help problem.

The farmer will be able to make the worker an even more attractive proposition than the manufacturer.

In this way, I believe that the tractor will prove the greatest able both for the man who owns the farm and the men who work it.

Thus it will make farming the most enjoyable, profitable business in the world.

And because there are more people in the world engaged in farming than in any other business, the tractor will make life more enjoyable for more people than any other device which has ever been given to mankind.

Is this an exaggeration? I think not.

P. E. POLICY OF CAUTION AS TO JITS BARED

That the entrance of the Pacific Electric into the jitney business in Santa Ana, through its purchase of a franchise to operate a local motor line franchise, is somewhat of an experiment and not looked upon as a tried and true method of railway operation is indicated by the fact that Paul Shoup, president of the P. E., in an address before members of the American Electric Railway association, now meeting in Indianapolis, stated that he would "proceed with caution" in operating jitneys.

Shoup said that "the electric railways of California protest as with one voice" against efforts to coordinate the trackless trolley with rail electric systems.

"When we consider the extension on any very considerable scale, the trackless carriers as auxiliary to or successor to our present operations, we find many reasons why we should proceed with caution," he asserted.

POSTMASTER RESIGNS AS HELP INADEQUATE

WESTWOOD, March 3.—William Taylor, postmaster of Westwood, has forwarded his resignation to Washington, and it is expected an examination will soon be held to select his successor.

Taylor asserted he was unable to give adequate service with the clerical help furnished him. He made repeated applications for an increase in the number of clerks, but without avail.

U. S. GETS NEW DEVICE TO AID NAVIGATORS

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—A new device developed by the navy which makes it possible to measure ocean depths hitherto unknown, and for navigators to take soundings easily and as frequently as they wish, has proved effective in recent tests on the radio and sound experimental ship Ohio, Secretary Denby announced. The device, which is described as simple, employs sound apparatus similar to that developed for submarine detection during the war, the principle being the creation of a sound on shipboard and measuring the time between this sound and the return of its echo from the bottom of the sea. The time interval, it was said, can be obtained within one one-thousandth of a second.

American Legion News Letter

District schools in Moffat county, Colorado, had decided to close their doors for a period of weeks, due to insufficient funds. The American Legion succeeded in raising $916 to keep them going, taking the stand that "a shortening of the school term or a curtailment of athletics would be a backward step, depriving children of rightful advantages."

Found wiping his auto with an American flag, a man in Tampa, Fla., was questioned by the American Legion. He was pronounced "simply ignorant," and given instruction in how to treat the colors. Hearing of the incident, the man's employer presented the Legion with a large flag.

A complete French village, with a "Hotel de Ville" accommodating 1,000, will be planted at Medicine Park, Okla., as a recreation center for the American Legion. Posts will build cottages where members may spend their vacation.

Hiring squads of unemployed ex-soldiers, each squad in charge of an ex-nurse, has been suggested to the American Legion in Toledo, Ohio, as a means of tearing down unsightly election posters.

"Nervous" ex-soldiers present a special problem in hospitalization. Neuropsychiatric treatment at government institutions is under investigation by the American Legion, and a conference of specialists has been called by the Veterans' bureau.

John J. Payne, released two years ago from a German prison, is being looked for by the American Legion. His mother, at Newburg, N. Y., has not seen him since Christmas, 1920.

Holding aloft a tin can labeled "For ex-soldiers," a man raised $9,000 in New York streets. The American Legion learned that ex-soldiers got about $50 of it—the man got a jail sentence.

ENTRY CHANNEL HELD O. K. FOR SMALL CRAFT

Linn L. Shaw, chairman of the Orange county harbor commission, today gave out for publication in The Register the following statement:

"In your report last evening of the effort to secure provision for a re-survey for Newport harbor it was stated:

"The decision to seek a re-survey this year is due largely to the conclusion of the Orange county harbor commission that the entrance to the harbor cannot be adequately protected until another jetty paralleling the one that has been built by Newport Beach city and Orange county is constructed."

"It seems to me that the word 'adequately' is liable to convey a meaning which is contrary to the existing conditions, and one which the writer of the article did not intend. In other words, it might be inferred from the article as written that without the additional jetty the entrance could not be maintained for commerce. I therefore wish to correct any such impression."

Says Channel Success.

"While it will be impossible to maintain a permanent 300-foot channel without an east jetty, there has been nothing to indicate that a very serviceable and safe channel cannot be depended upon for the character of craft designed to be accommodated by this initial unit of the harbor, namely, boats up to sixteen-foot draught."

"The new river opening and the harbor entrance have both been subjected to the most grueling tests this winter, and both have emerged from the terrific battles with the elements in a condition which should be most satisfactory to the people of Orange county and Newport Beach, whose money has made the new harbor possible. The port of Orange county has gone far enough now to be recognized as a physical success and nothing should be allowed to shake the confidence of the people in this project, which is of far greater importance than most of our citizens have yet realized."

East Jetty Needed.

"It is a fact, however, that the harbor cannot be fully developed without an east jetty, and to that end government aid is desired. Conditions in Washington seemed most favorable for a re-survey, and it was considered the part of wisdom to take advantage of the opportunity. There is nothing in this action, however, that should create the impression that the work so far has failed in any degree to make available the first unit of a commercial harbor, as originally intended. On the contrary, it is assumed that the work already accomplished and the consequent demonstration of the practicality of the harbor will constitute a very important factor toward influencing government aid for the furtherance of the project."

STATE ENGINEER TO PASS ON IRRIGATION

OROVILLE, March 3.—The directors of the Honcut-Yuba irrigation district are now arranging to have a transcript of proceedings prepared for submission to the state bond commission. This transcript is in accordance with their decision to submit the revised McCray plan to the state engineer and the bond commission for approval. Along with the plan, the proposal of Bates and Borland, contractors of Oakland, to furnish labor and material for the construction of the system for $1,550,000, or $50 an acre, will be submitted.

LAST TRIBUTE PAID TO H. L. McDERMOTT

Relatives of Hector L. McDermott, implement merchant who died at his home here Friday of last week, today were consoled with thoughts of the tribute paid to his memory by hosts of friends and his pastor at the funeral services held yesterday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church.

The Rev. J. A. Stevenson, pastor of the church, with whom Mr. McDermott was closely associated in harmonious and sincere work in church activities, spoke in the highest terms of the character of Mr. McDermott and his standing as a business man, husband and father.

"But the Lord is Mindful of His Own" was sung by Robert L. Brown. The pallbearers were F. D. Plavan, C. D. Dawes, W. W. Henry, C. A. Miller, Walter Reed and R. J. Thompson. Elders of the church were honorary pallbearers.

The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.

The family of the deceased today was in possession of resolutions of the Kiwanis club as prepared by the secretary by direction of the club.

"This community has sustained a loss that is deeply felt by the Kiwanis club of Santa Ana," say the resolutions. "This loss, while large in a material sense, is none the less of a distinct personal and spiritual nature. With the utmost sincerity, we testify to the nobility of character, and the personal charm and the high sense of order of citizenship of the deceased."

SEES AUTO PARK HERE AS GREAT CITY ASSET

Declaring that Santa Ana had the opportunity for developing the finest auto camping grounds in the world, W. L. Grubb today was enthusiastic over the possibility of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce developing an invaluable advertising asset by establishing the new camp grounds on its site on Santiago creek bank adjoining the Main street bridge.

Grubb last night returned from Santa Barbara, where he was accompanied by Frank True and H. F. Makosky for observation of the camp grounds in that city, with a view to gathering information that will serve in outlining plans for improving the local grounds. The three men made the trip as a committee from the Chamber of Commerce.

"We have the opportunity here for creating one of the finest camps in the world, if we can secure the necessary money," said Grubb. "Our site is larger than that in any city I know of. It is ideally located. We have the advantage of profiting by the experience of other communities in developing their grounds. We can pick the best of their features and add some that are original with us."

"The camp at Santa Barbara is more than self-supporting and it is operated entirely on the principal of giving automobile travelers every convenience possible at as little cost as possible. Profits from operation are devoted to additions to the park—and the profits come from the small charge of 50 cents a day for the use of the grounds."

"The camp is one of the biggest advertising features in Santa Barbara, according to statements of residents of that city."

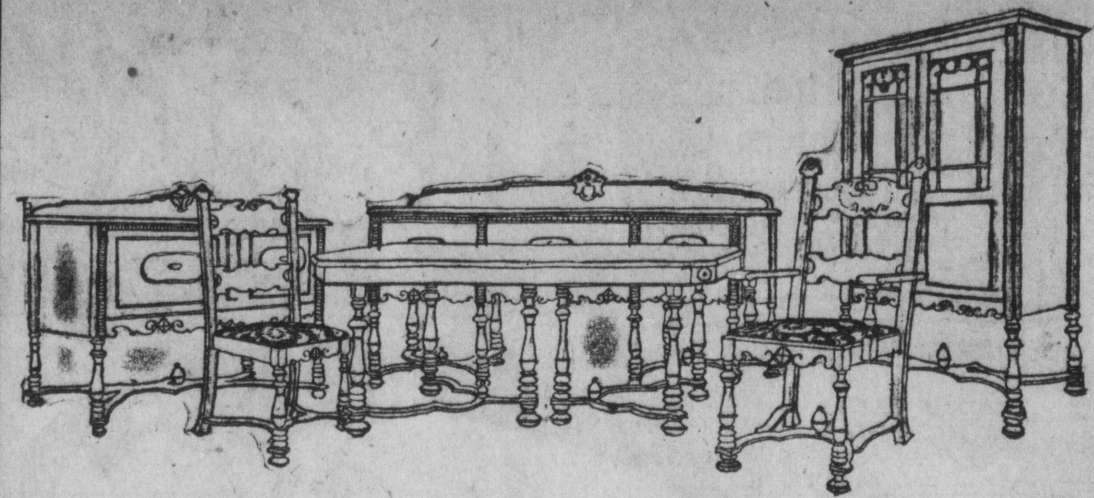

The three men, between them, have visited nearly every auto camp of importance in the state and it is not their intention to make further investigation of camps before submitting recommendations to the Chamber of Commerce, according to Grubb.

True and Makosky devoted themselves to observation of the equipment and camp layout while Grubb concerned himself with the methods of operation and business conduct of the enterprise.

Grubb states that $12,000 has been expended on the camp, and that plans are now under way for buying a new and larger site and starting a new plant.

The one now in use is too small to accommodate tourists who are attracted to the city by the high character of its park, Grubb says.

It is hoped to have the new Santa Ana camp open before the summer tourists start on their annual vacation trips.

Fitting attributes indeed and those which most people want symbolized in their Dining Room Furniture. A Tudor Period design modified for modern interiors. Simple, sturdy lines and not too ornate decorations, give it a distinction and quiet luxuriousness that never grow tiresome.

We believe this to be one of the nicest styles produced by furniture manufacturers.

The entire Suite includes some ten pieces, a table, buffet, serving table, china closet, armchair and chairs.

The armchair and chairs are upholstered in attractive tapestry.

This Suite is now on exhibition on the first floor of our store and we should be delighted to have you stop in and see it for yourself.

COMBINED ANAHEIM AND H. B. TRACK TEAMS TRIUMPH OVER POLY SPEEDERS

Poly Scores 56 Points to 57 By Opponents; Kerr of Oil City Team Cops Three Firsts; Bowe, Jabs and Messing Stars for Local Squad

By MILES CROOKSHANK
The combined track teams of Huntington Beach and Anaheim proved to be just one point too strong for Coach Ray Adkinson's spike-shoe artists in a meet held at Anaheim yesterday afternoon. They were able to roll up a total of 57 points to Poly's 56.

Although they were defeated, there is joy supreme in the Poly ranks, for the Huntington Beach squad, which has been conceded the winner of the county meet, was decisively conquered. Coach Walker's men secured but 44 points. Anaheim took the remaining 13 points.

Kerr, Huntington Beach's All-American track star, was of course the star of the meet, winning with ease the mile, 880 and 440 yard runs, thereby making him high-point man of the day.

The sprints, as expected, were hotly contested. Bill Cook of Anaheim won the century with Finley a little over a yard behind. McFadden, to the surprise of all, did not place. He retaliated, though, by winning the furlong in the fast time of 23.2. Jabs took the shot put with a mighty heave of 41 feet 8 inches. Bowe surprised himself and the spectators by leaping to first place in the high jump. His jump of 5 feet 7 1/4 inches was exceedingly good considering the fact that the take-off was very poor.

Perhaps the best time of the meet was Messing's 26.3 in the low hurdles. This is about a second faster than the time for this event in the county meet last year. Messing stands an excellent chance of coping first place in the All-Southern meet which is to be held in Santa Ana in April. Messing was also high man for the locals, scoring 12 points.

The results follow:
880 yd. run: Kerr (H. B.) 1st; Weissman (S. A.) 2nd; Lutz (S. A.) 3rd. Time 2:11.3.
100 yd. dash: Cook (A.) 1st; Finley (S. A.) 2nd; Nash (H. B.) 3rd. Time 10.2.
440 yd. dash: Kerr (H. B.) 1st; Nash (H. B.) 2nd; Briggs (A.) 3rd. Time 54.4.
120 yd. high hurdles: McFadden (S. A.) 1st; Nichols (H. B.) 2nd; Bickmore (H. B.) 3rd. Time 18.2.
220 yd. dash: McFadden (S. A.) 1st; Finley (S. A.) 2nd; Nash (H. B.) 3rd. Time 23.2.
220 yd. low hurdles: Messing (S. A.) 1st; Clares (A.) 2nd; Nichols (H. B.) 3rd. Time 26.3.
Mile: Kerr (H. B.) 1st; Vauter (S. A.) 2nd; Oglesby (S. A.) 3rd. Time 5:10.2.
Shot Put: Jabs (S. A.) 1st; Cook (A.) 2nd; Nash (H. B.) 3rd. Distance 41 ft. 8 in.

Pole Vault: Nichols (H. B.) 1st; Messing (S. A.) 2nd; Bickmore (H. B.) 3rd. Height 10 ft. 3 in.
Discus: Nash (H. B.) 1st; Stevens (S. A.) 2nd; Jabs (S. A.) 3rd. Distance 108 ft. 5 in.
High Jump: Bowe (S. A.) 1st; Bickmore (H. B.) 2nd; Nichols (H. B.) 3rd. Height 5 ft. 7 1/4 in.
Broad Jump: Messing (S. A.) 1st; Elliott (H. B.) 2nd; Smith (S. A.) 3rd. Distance 20 ft. 1 in.

POLY BASEBALL MEN FACING BUSY WEEK

Anaheim, Pasadena, Tustin to Play On Local Diamond Next Week

Next week is to be a busy one for the thirty baseball candidates that are reporting to Coach Morrison.

On Tuesday Anaheim is to be entertained here. Pasadena will invade the Poly grounds on Wednesday and on Friday Tustin appears here for the first league game of the season.

Tuesday's game is one of mystery. Anaheim did not succeed well in football or basketball, or even in track, but it is considered possible that an improvement may be noted in diamond activity.

Wednesday's affair is almost as equally dark. Pasadena is a larger school, and has always turned out good baseball teams, so Morrison is on the lookout for a surprise.

The first league contest comes Friday when Tustin is entertained. The Tustinites showed up well in basketball, and were rated as a husky, aggressive bunch. There is no doubt but what they will make a strenuous attempt to make a showing in baseball.

Morrison is much encouraged by the results of his two or three weeks of practice. Several victories have resulted, and when, as in the case of the two Edison company games, a superior team has been met, the showing of the high school lads has been very satisfactory.

Although Morrison has not made a definite choice of the team which will represent the school, it is considered likely that the nine will be selected from the following candidates: Coffman, Phipps or Jabs, c; Jabs or Stark, 1b; Dietrick, 2b; Wilcox or LeBard, ss; Finley or Goldenstein, 3b; LeBard or Wilcox, p; and fielders from Waters, McDonald, Brown and Stark.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Bobby Roth has signed a new contract, the Yankee office announced. Ward, Schanze and Jones are expected to sign before the end of the week. The Ruth case was not mentioned, but it is understood that Jacob Ruppert, president of the club, would not agree to the swat king's terms.

HERE ARE SPEED BOYS WHO WILL BURN UP TRACK IN SUNDAY RACE

SIXTEEN DARING SPEED DEMON READY FOR STARTER'S FLAG TO START THEM OFF ON 250 MILE AUTO RACE IN L. A. SUNDAY

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—Sunday is to be a day of days at the Beverly Hills speed plant here.

Sixteen world famous motor car pilots are straining at the leash waiting for the drop of the starter's flag which will send them off in the classic 250-mile event which will usher in the first of the 1922 A. A. events.

For many reasons Sunday's event will call for unusual attention. The race was originally scheduled for Washington's Birthday but was postponed on account of inclement weather. Then, last Sunday, the field lined up and started in what was one of the most brilliant exhibitions of speed and daring ever seen in America, but great gobs of moisture commenced to fall and so slippery did the track become that it was necessary to call off the contest at the end of 116 miles of sensational driving.

LANDIS MAY CLEAR UP KENWORTHY CASE BEFORE PLAY OPENS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—"Duke" Kenworthy, former Seattle manager, will be permitted to train with Portland's Beavers pending decision as to his eligibility to play ball with the Beavers this year by Judge Landis, baseball director.

Judge Landis wired President McCarthy of the Coast league to that effect last night. He said it was only fair to Kenworthy and to Portland to permit him to train with the club so he might be ready to play should the decision be in Kenworthy's favor.

When the race was called off 35,000 speed mad fans saw Tommy Milton leading the field after many narrow escapes and feats of reckless driving. The wet skies played Milton a scurvy trick for had the rain held up for practically four additional minutes he would have been able to cover 125 miles, as A. A. A. rulings permit officials to call an event a race if half of the advertised distance is covered. As it was Milton seemed assured of going into first place in the van of one of the greatest fields ever assembled on an American speed bowl.

Motor car fans throughout California are highly enthused with the prospect of seeing next Sunday's event and it looks as if their desires will be gratified as fair weather has been promised by the meteorological authorities. Those who attended last Sunday's going will enter next Sunday via the rain check route, but it is expected that the 35,000 who braved the elements will be considerably augmented. A. M. Young, manager of the Los Angeles speedway, states that there are plenty of grandstand seats available for purchasers as well as space in the infield, hence it looks as if the 50,000 mark will be easily reached in point of attendance.

FIGHT FANS HOOT OUT COME OF BATTLE BETWEEN LEADING NEGRO HEAVYWEIGHTS

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 3.—When Georges Carpentier knocked out Battling Levinsky, the verdict of the fans was—"bad match; never should have been made."

The same thing is being said about the Wills-Norfolk thing last night in Madison Square Garden, in which Wills knocked out Norfolk early in the second round.

Both fights were closely related. Both were parts of a "smoke-up" for another world's championship fight.

Carpentier and Wills were called upon to prove that they were good enough for Dempsey. They both knocked out the man selected—by Jack Kearns—and they both were credited.

The Carpentier-Levinsky fight looked on the level, however. The Wills-Norfolk thing looked exactly like a "frame." Not a fan of the 10,000 in the Garden saw the blow struck. One of the judges said it was "terrible" and the house agreed.

Livesey & Preston to Give Cups to Winners in Baseball

Play in the Orange County High School Baseball league this season will be stimulated by a contest for two loving cups, hung up by the firm of Livesey & Preston, sporting goods dealers, at 216 East Fourth street.

One of these cups, a large and beautiful silver trophy, will become the permanent property of the first three-time winner in the county league. The other is offered for the best individual batting average in the Santa Ana team for the season.

"Spud" Morrison, popular local coach, said this morning he expected eventually to see both these cups added to the long line of similar trophies which adorn the big glass show case in the assembly hall at Poly high.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB DINNER IS SUCCESS

LA HABRA, March 3.—The last meeting of the month of the Woman's Improvement club was held last Tuesday at the social hall. A board meeting was held, at which considerable business was done. A report from the dinner committee for the Associated Chambers of Commerce was read. Besides the dinner being a huge success, $20 was realized for the general fund of the club.

Mrs. Eva Akers had charge of the program, the theme of which was "Landmarks." Mrs. Gurley gave an interesting paper on the old missions; also on some of the old homes in this part of the country.

Mrs. Akers gave a resume of early California history and cited some of the various epochs of the past. An amusing discussion was then held by the members on why they liked, or disliked California.

The library committee which was to have met to discuss some business relative to the making of tables and shelving, steps and magazine racks and other matters was postponed on account of the illness of the chairman, Mrs. F. E. Drake and Mrs. Newton, both women being ill with influenza.

The Rock Bottom store has moved to their new location on West Central.

Reed-Allen Wedding

Coming as a surprise to their many friends, the marriage of Cecil Allen, son of Mrs. Delphia Redfern, and Miss Willa Mae Reed, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Reed, was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Redfern on First street, on Monday evening. Only intimate relatives were present at the wedding, the Rev. C. A. Smith officiating at the single ring service. After a delicious wedding supper the happy couple left for Los Angeles, where a short honeymoon will be spent. Mr. and Mrs. Allen will locate in Exeter, where the groom will be engaged in ranching. Inspecting the newly-completed Sunday school rooms of the Methodist church, and delivering a splendid address to the Sunday school classes, Dr. Jessie L. Corley, of Los Angeles, who is secretary of the Sunday school conference, spoke of the "New Day for Teachers." In this work, Dr. Corley's remarks were forceful and instructive, and he took occasion to compliment the people of La Habra on the splendid class rooms, and social hall for the activities of her young folks.

The Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Smith attended the Orange County Clerical club meeting at Santa Ana.

Shrove Tuesday Party
Classes of Mrs. H. H. Peabody and Mrs. La Rue, came on masque to the social hall last Tuesday evening. This was their annual party youngsters who numbered twenty. A peanut hunt, portland puzzle game and refreshments amused them until 10 o'clock. These classes were the Golden Rule and the Sunny Maids.

The Z. L. Rice men's furnishings opened at their new location in the Len Hart building on West Central this week. Mr. and Mrs. Rice are Whittier people, who believe in the future of La Habra. They are making their home in the Rice apartments.

Mike Moratta narrowly escaped serious injury when a Ford car, that it is said, was being driven without lights, ran into him. He was thrown about fifteen feet, suffering many bruises and cuts. Moratta is thankful that he is here to tell the story, and has no broken bones as a souvenir, he says.

BUENA PARK

BUENA PARK, March 3.—The Buena Park Women's club met in the Community Hall on Thursday afternoon as usual.

The special meeting which was to be held in the school hall in the interests of better telephone service for Buena Park was indefinitely postponed on account of the serious illness of Mr. Woodrugh, of Costa Mesa, who was to have addressed the meeting.

The next regular meeting of the Buena Park Farm center will be held in the school hall on Monday evening, March 13. It will be a special Orange county fair evening with good speakers, good music and eats.

A number of Buena Park representatives men attended the rate hearing before the railroad commission in Los Angeles on Monday.

A number of Park people are suffering with influenza. Mr. and Mrs. Richard McDowell are both ill with influenza. Little Bobbie Ritter has been confined at home for more than a week.

Mrs. Jolly returned Wednesday evening from the Fullerton hospital where her arm was reset after the auto accident of last week. Mr. Jolly moved to the house formerly owned by Mr. Black, the first of the week.

Mrs. Joe Lockner is at the parental home helping to care for her mother.

Mrs. Wiltsey entertained a guest from Pomona over the week-end. Dr. J. R. Schofield, county president of the Orange county farm bureau, attended the regular March meeting of the directors in Santa Ana, at the Farm Advisor's office on Thursday. The regular monthly meeting time has been changed from the second Friday to the first Thursday of each month.

Mrs. Williams of West Ninth street is slowly improving from an attack of pneumonia.

Clyde Ritter recently returned from a few weeks' stay at Blythe, where he went to recuperate from an attack of influenza. He reports a rapid return to normal health. Dr. Schofield and family spent Sunday at Claremont.

FULLERTON, March 3.—Mrs. J. T. Hill and Mr. R. B. Smith, a brother of Mrs. Hill, who is here with his wife spending the winter, are both victims of the influenza. Mr. and Mrs. Smith intended to leave for their home in Severy, Kansas, Wednesday morning, but now will be compelled to remain until Mr. Smith's recovery. It will not be long before Mr. Smith will be able to make the trip, however, as both he and Mrs. Hill were able to be up for a short time today.

Mrs. Ralph F. Brown and her house guest, Mrs. H. P. Keller, are guests of honor at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. George Ranke at her home on Pasadena avenue, between Pasadena and Los Angeles. Mrs. Brown is also spending the day in Los Angeles attending to some business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. Badley and two little ones are much better today after a few days of very serious illness. Miss Marquita Salvesson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Salvesson, 430 West Amerige avenue, is recovering nicely from her recent illness. She has been able to be up for a short time for the last two days.

Albert Launer, city attorney, who has been quite ill for the past few days with influenza, is considering being in his offices by tomorrow. Also, little Jean Launer is much better this morning after a strenuous night with a high fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalmir Devening spent a jolly evening recently with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cram at their home on West Wilshire avenue.

BREA

(The following news letter, no doubt, will be of much interest to the many friends of the Rev. W. E. Spicer, who is The Register's correspondent at Brea. For many weeks following his beloved wife's illness and death, the pastor was himself hovering between life and death, his illness being due to pneumonia. In keeping with his legions of friends, we are thankful his life has been spared. In a personal letter he writes: "In a month I'm hoping to be back at my task with abundance of 'pep,' for I'm thankful to say I am recovering 'normally' apparently without a flaw.")

BY THE REV. W. E. SPICER
Brea is running over with interesting news about which the county would like to know, or, at least, Breaites think it is worth knowing. Therefore a Register without Brea news seems incomplete, especially the copies that reach this end of the county.

But a desperately sick man cannot get the news to write it and that is what your correspondent has been.

Moreover, some friends who are fortunate enough to live on a ranch have taken a contract to "feed and fatten" him. My! me! What desperate chances they have taken; for this man is now the personification of a living, moving active appetite. Hence the news for the next few weeks must come from other pens.

A bond of sympathy obtains among those similarly afflicted hence we note with deep anxiety that much sickness prevails. There are many ill with influenza. Some are suffering from complications. However, our schools are able to continue and business in no way impaired.

Need Class Rooms

In fact, our Brea schools are so crowded that at least six new rooms and as many teachers must be added next year and this in spite of the fact that the new building was entered this year. Mr. Fanning principal has been supplying for his teachers who have lost some time by sickness.

Two new tracts have been opened for purchase and residence buildings recently. One east of town by Sexton and Culp, the other south of town by Maxwell, the latter will be large lots about an acre and suitable for country home, fruit, garden, chicken ranch, etc. Other tracts will undoubtedly be open soon as the pressure of demand never ceases.

There are well founded rumors of some new manufacturing plants, or shops coming into Brea soon. We welcome the same. Don't knock, just walk in.

Study Paving Problem
Our citizens are agitated over the way our main boulevard has been smashed to pieces by the recent heavy detour traffic. We understand that our city officials are studying the paving problem diligently and will probably propose a paving district with a sliding scale of taxes covering a period of years.

Some equitable plan is being sought to get a first-class job of paving throughout the city.

Also complaint continues of our muddy streets. But rain makes mud, and constant ditching for water mains, gas, etc., leaves the streets bad in rainy season. In due time these necessary improvements will be done and streets put in order. Torn up streets are but growing pains of thriving cities.

Predicts Lively Campaign
Monday night a citizens meeting thronged Sewell hall, to discuss civic affairs and nominate trustees for the coming April election. Grievances were aired, suggestions for a platform or working program as things desired by the citizens were made. No names were presented at this meeting but committees appointed to prepare a program of service for the guidance of the coming administration, and one to prepare nominating for trustees. It was on the order of the old colonial "town meeting" and no doubt calls for another to receive its committee reports.

From present indications we predict a lively campaign and record vote, provided previous interest has secured a good registration. Committees were appointed to draw up a form of organization for a Citizens' Civic society which will get together for discussion of the best interests of the city.

Another large committee was appointed to nominate candidates for the coming city election. C. C. Kinsler was temporary chairman and M. F. S. secretary.

TALBERT

TALBERT, March 3.—Church services were discontinued at the local M. E. church south, last Sunday evening owing to the illness of the minister's wife, Mrs. Woodson.

The Rev. Mr. Woodson secured substitutes for both the Greenville and Bolsa pulpits that day. Sunday school was held here as usual in the morning and the regular pupils were present to answer roll call with a very few exceptions. In spite of the prevailing epidemic thirty-four in all were present.

Mrs. J. O. Harper, Donald and Frank Harper are all down with influenza. Mrs. Harry Harper and Mrs. Lena Patterson are caring for them.

Almost all the members of the Isnor family are reported as ill with the influenza.

A. P. Vincent attended the Idaho picnic at Long Beach Sunday, going over with his brother, Tammany Vincent and family of Huntington Beach.

All the influenza patients who were on the sick list last week are doing nicely and are gradually improving.

Mr. Bohr has been quite ill since Saturday and as his condition did not seem to improve a doctor was summoned Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson are the proud parents of a son who arrived Friday at their home. The Petersons are new people in the community, having moved in from Colorado only a few weeks ago.

Mrs. Maddox, mother of Russ Maddox of this place, is ill at her home with influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. James Roberson, who spent some weeks at Talbert have returned to their home at Laguna.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giesler, daughter, Lucille, and son, Harold, of this place, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Giesler of Huntington Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Krockenberg and daughter, of Norwalk, formed a family party Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giesler's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Stoffel, at Anaheim.

The ladies spent the afternoon with Mrs. Stoffel while the Messrs. Robert, Samuel and Walter Giesler, Louis Krockenberg and Bernard Stoffel attended the Knights of Columbus initiation held at Anaheim.

In the evening the entire party were entertained at a delightful dinner party at the Stoffel home.

Some of the ranchers who were among the few who were seemingly lucky to get their sugar beets planted early are now confronted with the necessity of plowing up and replanting their crops. The over-plus of water which so thoroughly soaked the soil has caused the land to bake now that the weather is clearing somewhat and the hard crust thus formed makes it an impossibility for the tender beets to break through.

"Dandeline" costs only 35 cents a bottle. One application ends all dandruff, itching, itching and falling hair, and in a few moments, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will appear a mass, so soft, lustrous, and easy to do up. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks use, when you see new hair fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. "Dandeline" is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. This delightful, stimulating tonic helps thin, lifeless, faded hair to grow long, thick, heavy and luxuriant.—Adv.

WEST END — "The Killer"—a WEST END — "The Killer"—a Stewart Edward White production. (Opening).
TEMPLE — "Just Around the Corner"—a Fannie Hurst story.
YOST — William C. de Mille's production of "Miss Lulu Bett." (Closing).
PRINCESS — Doris May in "The Foolish Age." (Closing).

STEWART EDWARD WHITE FILM AT WEST END

"The Killer," an outdoor story written with all the power and virility of which Stewart Edward White is master, will be shown for the first time at the West End theater for two days, commencing today.

Benjamin B. Hampton has transferred the story to the screen with all the smashing melodrama, adventurous romance, delightful humor and vividness and virility of the novel.

The all-star cast presents Frank Campeau in the title role, with beautiful Claire Adams and manly Jack Conway in the romantic leads. Frankie Lee and his dog play an appealing part, and others in prominent roles are Edward Peil and Tod Sloan.

PRIZE-WINNING PLAY

"Miss Lulu Bett," William de Mille's Paramount production, now at the Yost, is the screen version of the play which won the Pulitzer prize of $1,000 as the best American play produced during the 1920-21 theatrical season. The play ran on Broadway and was a decided hit. Zane Gale, an American novelist, is the author.

The story is typically American and deals with a side of small town home life not yet uncovered. The principal character is the seemingly unattractive spinster sister-in-law of a small town justice of the peace and dentist. She has to depend upon him for support and shelter, and thus she automatically becomes the unpaid family servant. Later, romance enters into her life, only to increase her troubles. After several bitter experiences, however, everything clears up for Lulu and happiness and love are her reward.

Milton Sills is leading man and Lois Wilson plays the role of the screen interpretation of "Huckleberry Finn," takes a leading part in "Just Around the Corner," now at the Temple.

In "Just Around the Corner," Sargent plays the part of Jimmie Birdsong in which he displays the same qualities which made his interpretation of Huck Finn so notable.

"Fool's Paradise" to be Shown
The forthcoming presentation at the West End theater next Sunday of Cecil B. De Mille's superb Paramount production of "Fool's Paradise," is awaited with interest by all admirers of Mr. De Mille. It is said he has outdone all his previous productions in this stirring story of human love, tragedy and thrill. Dorothy Dalton, Mildred Harris, Conrad Nagel, Theodore Kosloff, John Davidson and Julia Faye, are said to vest the leading roles with artistry seldom seen on the screen.

DORIS MAY IN SNAPPY COMEDY AT PRINCESS

Full of fast and snappy action, genuine comedy packed in every scene and a story that kept the audience in constant laughter until the last foot of "The Foolish Age" had been projected, Doris May's first starring vehicle opened at the Princess Theater last night to a crowded house.

It is the ultimate in up-to-date comedy drama, embodying situations and business of startling originality and presents Miss May in the sort of genial role that has made this girl such a favorite with movie fans throughout the country.

Those who distinguished themselves in less important roles last night were Bull Montana, Arthur Hoyt, Lillian Worth, Billy Elmer, Spike Robinson, Hallam Cooley and Otis Harlan.

SAN JOSEANS WANT S. P. OFF FOURTH ST.

SAN JOSE, March 3.—Plans for an attempt to force the Southern Pacific to remove its tracks from Fourth street, in San Jose, are being laid by the members of the newly organized Fourth Street association. The franchise held by the railroad, allowing it to use the street for rails, expired in January, 1918. An extension for six months was then granted by the city council. Since that time the railroad has used the street without authority. At a meeting held at the State Teachers' college last night members of the association decided to circulate petitions calling on the council to force the company to remove the tracks.

TUSTIN, March 3.—The Tustin literature Section of Ebell will meet next Tuesday, March 7 with Mrs. J. L. Marshall on Santa Clara avenue. The subject for consideration will be "The Six Best Sellers."

COUNTERFEITERS' DEN IN HEART OF GOTHAM

NEW YORK, March 3.—Five men were arrested and a press for counterfeiting $20 bills in a building at Forty-second street and Broadway, the heart of Manhattan's uptown business district, and $65,000 in spurious currency were seized tonight by Federal agents. The five prisoners are alleged to have flooded the metropolitan area with counterfeit $20 bills in the last few days.

APPEARANCES OFTEN DECEIVE!

How often you see a fair maid, doiled up gay; and looking her over you're inclined to say:—"Get Whiz! She's a peach, if there ever was one." Then she starts in to talk, and you turn round and run.

We drive up North Main, Mellottus we see. "One grove looks as good as another to me." But you get your good grove and from each dig a bunch; compare five best plants. That will give you a hunch.

AT CHINO you'll note, on Riverside Drive; how old TREATED ALFALFA is inclined to thrive. TEN TONS to the acre, a yield of some class; while the strip left untreated has all "GONE TO GRASS." The owner, Dr. Molyneux, will be much pleased THE TRUTH to show.

JITNEYS AS FEEDERS

The purchase by the Pacific Electric of a franchise under which the railway company will operate a local trackless transportation system may spell a new era in electric railway operation throughout Southern California.

The American Railway association, a national organization, is considering the advisability of urging inter-urban lines all over the United States to undertake the operation of local bus lines as feeders to their main lines.

Some years ago when motor stages began operation in Southern California, the electric roads were somewhat contemptuous of them. Foresight on the part of the trolley companies at that time might have saved them from the competition that has come to them through motor development. Had the electric roads realized at that time that the motor stages would grow to become a tremendous thing in transportation, doubtless they would have seized the opportunity to establish the lines themselves and work them in conjunction and as co-operative agencies with the electric roads.

Belated though the action may be, the decision of the Pacific Electric to enter the jitney business ought to bring good results. The operation of the city jitney lines in Santa Ana ought to be, and doubtless will be of mutual benefit to residents of the city and to the Pacific Electric. If the lines to be run in Santa Ana prove a success, an extension of the motor feeder system into various cities of Southern California may be expected.

LEAGUE'S PUBLICITY

The League of Nations, through its News Bureau, is going to keep the public fully informed about its work. It is recognized that straightforward and constant publicity is one of the chief factors in keeping the world keenly interested in the League's activities, and hence in the League itself.

This is a wise policy. Even those persons who read the League Constitution when it was first published do not remember all its purposes and functions. Those who did not study it carefully are inclined to think of the League of Nations as primarily interested in regulating or preventing wars by discussion of boundaries, armies and navies. There is a wide field of constructive activity, however, which is of even greater importance, because through its successful accomplishment the fundamental matters of co-operation and good will among nations in the lesser affairs of life are made the forerunners of co-operation and good will in bigger matters.

In international health work, famine relief, the protection of women and children, the repatriation of refugees, deported women and children and war prisoners, co-ordination of international official bureaus under the League auspices and in various other human and social matters, in addition to its better known work in handling boundary disputes, etc., the League is busy and achieving new strength and success.

CRIME WAVE'S CAUSES

According to Current History, there were more people murdered in the United States in the six years from 1912 to 1918 than there were Americans killed in the World War. Also, the criminal indictments pending in the federal courts in 1921 numbered 70,000 against 9,500 in 1912.

Indictments for murder seem to mean little, even when the criminal is apprehended and arraigned, which is not often. It is stated that in New York City the chance of a murder escaping is 670 to 1.

The increase in burglaries and hold-ups is well known. The thefts from transportation companies alone, in money and goods taken from railroad cars and steamship piers, are estimated at more than $100,000,000 a year.

The "crime wave" may be blamed, like most other evils, on the war, but that does not dispose of the problem, nor fully explain it, nor excuse it. This record means laxity in the public conscience and laxity in law-enforcement. And it doesn't help any in enforcing the law against violent criminals when supposedly respectable members of society are defying the law with impunity and a clear conscience in such a matter as prohibition.

THE PRICE OF PROGRESS

The army service is to make an inquiry into the whole question of the military value of the lighter-than-air craft of great size, as a result of the Roma disaster. Until this is done, it is unlikely that any request will be made to Congress for funds to replace the big airship. Such an investigation is in accordance with a proper regard for economy as well as for human safety.

Unless the practical usefulness of the super-durable can be shown beyond reasonable question, there is no reason why the nation should be taxed for funds to pay for the purchase or construction of such ships, nor why the lives of men should be risked by scores at a time in experimental flights.

There is this to be remembered, however, most of the great modern inventions have been perfected only after large sums of money and many lives have been sacrificed in the experimental stages of the work. This is part of the price of progress. And the imagination which visions a new thing, the courage and optimism which risk life and fortune if need be to perfect it or to demonstrate its usefulness, are among the characteristics which mark man as "little lower than the angels." It is the men who have dreamed and spent and died who have lifted the race from the jungle to the clouds.

AT HOME AND ABROAD

"Thank God you can give!" reads the first line of a striking advertisement in a New York paper, printed by the association for relief of Jewish war sufferers. And under that line, another, "Can you thank God?" And following, such words as these:

"No child in all New York will starve to death this year for lack of food. No child will freeze to death for lack of clothing or warmth. No old men or women will starve or freeze for the lack of essentials necessary to keep them alive in this great city. We would consider ourselves inhuman if we were to permit a condition of this kind to exist."

thousands of children will die this year for the want of a crust of bread and thousands more will die because of exposure; the sick will die through lack of medicine and surgical instruments; pregnant mothers will carry their unborn children to the grave with them for the simple reason that they lack sufficient nourishment to keep them alive."

This would in itself seem to answer adequately the argument which some people have raised against contributing to the work of the American Relief Association when they say, "We have plenty to do to help the poor at home." We have, it is true, a great deal to do. Yet when a comparison is made, will not the facts support the contention above? Where a family in America is found in a serious condition, are there not a hundred standing by ready to help? And do they not do so? But where those children in Russia are starving, the hundreds standing by are in the same condition as themselves. Help must come from outside for this one more winter. Seed and agricultural help of various sorts now being sent will greatly lessen the need for next year and those following.

LEAGUE EPIDEMIC CONTROL

Russian Soviet health authorities and the League of Nations health commission have established direct and systematic contact for the mutual control of epidemic diseases in Russia. The Russians are furnishing full information as to epidemics and general health conditions within their territory.

It is impossible to estimate what this will mean to the world in prevention of widespread epidemics. The number of typhus cases alone was given as 20,000,000. Relapsing fever and dysentery have been alarmingly prevalent. After these come cholera, smallpox and plague, which are less menacing because they exist in very limited degree.

Drugs, surgical and medical instruments and soap are scarce and greatly needed. Yet with the Soviet authorities showing themselves honestly ready to co-operate in every possible way, the outlook does not seem hopeless. A sanitary convention and an anti-epidemic agreement with neighboring countries have been suggested and will no doubt be carried out, along with the standardization of anti-toxins sera and other measures already suggested.

Here is work which will mean much not only for Russia, but for other countries not now in such dire straits.

Misplaced Zeal In Politics

Riverside Enterprise

The Automobile Club of Southern California is a wonderful organization. It has done more than any other one factor for good roads, automobile signs, motor comforts on the road and the instruction of the tourists as to their touring information in Southern California. It has made a mistake, however, in some of its recent activities in politics. It is to be hoped that its leaders may see the light and realize that a man's ownership of a membership in the club does not affect his political views and that there are about as many Democrats in the club as Republicans and about as many members in sympathy with one strong state political faction as another. The usefulness of the club will not be broadened and enlarged, for example, by its assistance that may be given by it to the group of people who are seeking to have the work on the Banning-Whitewater paving abandoned and work done in the Imperial valley instead. Nor do we think the club's standing is particularly improved by some of the attacks it has made against the state highway commission.

Living Up to the Ads

Fresno Republican

Persons who lack things are supposed to be the ones who read advertisements. People who have things are supposed to be those who advertise their possessions, in order to pass them to others, at a profit to the seller and an advantage to the buyer.

But it frequently is of advantage for people who have goods, or service, or opportunities, to read the advertisements of those who are selling goods or service or opportunity, to see how they are doing things.

Perhaps one of the first businesses that Mr. Hays in his capacity as guardian angel will attend to will be reading of motion picture advertisements.

In some parts of the country the experts who write motion picture ads are far in advance of those who write the programs for the photoplay houses. We take as an example a collection of advertisements taken from a paper of wide circulation in a large Mississippi valley city. Here are some of the lines that stand out, in large print:

"Entertainment to Suit Your Every Mood."
"Wholesome Recreation Is a Healthy Mood."
"Leave No One at Home—Give Em All a Treat."

If motion picture programs are selected uniformly with reference to these suggestions, will they fail to be of value?

If you can without question take your whole family to see the photoplay, are you apt to hear any great number of people finding fault with it? If there is entertainment to suit your every mood, will there not be the variety that makes for soul health?

If the photo house is the place the entire family goes, isn't it a better place to have in the city, rather than a worse place? If home extends out of its four square walls to include the neighborhood movie theater, isn't the happiness of the people of the city increased without a drawback?

Perhaps if the motion picture exhibitors of the country go to advertising more specifically, to get the greatest number of patrons, they will find their business securely founded on the family welfare of the United States, not on the hit-or-miss patronage of a mutually shameful public.

Greatest Oil Producer

Long Beach Press

California leads all the states in the quantity of petroleum produced. Not only does this state excel nominally, but it is so far in the lead as to be notable in the oil-producing records of the world. This state yielded nearly 25 per cent of all oil taken out of the ground in the whole United States, in 1921. This remarkable showing is vouched for in statistics compiled by the United States Geological Survey.

California's mineral wealth is enormous and varied. No state in the Union, all things considered, has been so prominently in the eyes of the world for mineral production. No more stirring romance has been written than the chronicles of the gold discovery in California, the thrilling rush of Argonauts from all parts of the world, the making of fabulous fortunes and the beginning of a mining industry that has kept California in the forefront as the leading state in production of gold. The petroleum industry, while not so spectacular in development as gold mining, nevertheless has written record achievements here in California in volume of output.

Something Else to Worry About

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

THE WORLD IN YOUR HEART

Solomon once said that the world existed in each human being's heart. No wonder Pope thought that Man was so interesting. But he is interesting only as he lets the world have a chance in his heart.

I looked into the face of a beautiful moon last night as I have ever seen. A friend was with me and he, too, admired the unusual beauty there. We both reflected. But each of us took that moon into a different world—our own!

The most potent thing in the world is opinion—individual opinion—because it is from the single individual that the crowd gets its inspiration and forms its own public opinion which is able to move an entire world. So you see that it is very important as to what sort of a world you take and keep and develop in your heart.

The best world is that one into which you may continually invite others, that they may become enriched from all that you have learned or seen. Recently I looked upon a most extraordinary small marble—so noble, so uplifting and so lovely that I felt thrills of beauty waves vibrating through my consciousness. I asked the name of the sculptor and learned that it was done by a woman—a semi-invalid. Rodin never cut a finer small piece. No matter how imperfect your body may have been brought into this world, or how full of flaws it may now be, just so long as your mind is clean and healthy you may continue to invite into your heart the most perfect gifts of Nature.

Keep a very happy world in your heart. And continue to beautify it with your love of art and music and literature—and all people.

The other evening I heard a great violinist—many say the greatest in the world—Kreisler. I watched him closely, for I sat near to him. It seemed to me that he entered a very beautiful world as he played with such matchless skill and delicacy. But it was his own world that he had made wonderful by his fine and noble character.

Art and beauty are living, vital forces. Each has a language—and when we can talk that language and understand it, we become a part of art and beauty, as though melted into one with them.

Worth While Verses

God gives us love. Something to love
He gives us; but when love is grown
To ripeness, that on which it thrives
Falls off, and love is left alone.

Sleep sweetly, tender heart, in peace!
Sleep, holy spirit; blessed soul,
While the stars burn, the moons increase,
And the great ages onward roll.

Sleep till the end, true soul and sweet!
Nothing comes to thee new or strange.
Sleep full of rest from head to feet;
Lie still, dry dust, secure of change.

—Tennyson.

Odd and Interesting

Whaleskin is so thick that it can be split into several layers, each as stout as ox-hide, and it is excellent for making boots, bags, harness or belting. The usefulness of the whale in this respect is not confined to his outer skin. The stomach furnishes a leather as soft and as strong as the best kid. Another important thing about the whale is that the whole of his skin is good. The skins of cows, horses and other land animals furnish a comparatively small quantity of leather, for only certain portions of the hide are of the right quality.

HAS SAVED 382 LIVES

Saving 382 lives is the record of W. B. Mackie, 65-year-old Englishman, who retired recently after 40 years' service as coxswain of the Margate, England lifeboat.

Margate, the Coney Island of England, is visited in summer by great numbers of city dwellers who are unable to swim, and through Mackie's efforts an average of 20 a year have been saved from a watery grave.

Mackie also has the distinction of never missing a day in his 40 years of service. At 65 he is still healthy and says the only reason that he is retiring is to give some needy younger man the place, as he has accumulated enough money to insure independence for the rest of his days.—Kansas City Star.

"It's the first dead hog I ever saw," said Johnny Jay.

"Me, too," said Bushy. "In fact, it's the first time I ever knew that old pig ever died."

Johnny Jay screamed a little laugh at Bushy Squirrel's ignorance.

"Let's go over and see her again," said Bushy.

In a few minutes Bushy Squirrel and Johnny Jay were both over at the old orchard looking down at the sad form of Old Mother Pig.

"Poor old thing!" said Johnny.

Bushy Squirrel ran down the tree and stood beside Old Mother Pig, jerking his tail and chattering away about the motherless piggies. Johnny Jay got a little braver and he was on a little limb right above Mother Pig's back.

Bushy Squirrel was getting more excited every minute. He got so close once that when he gave his tail a jerk it brushed Old Mother Pig right on the nose.

"Boo-o-o!" roared Old Mother Pig, as she rolled over on her feet.

Well, Bushy Squirrel and Johnny Jay didn't stay for the funeral. I can tell you that! Bushy turned three somersets getting to that tree and then he jumped from tree-top to tree-top where he could, and ran from one to another where they were father apart till he got home.

As for Johnny Jay, Bushy never looked to see where he went, but he was clear out of sight before Bushy Squirrel could get out of the old orchard.

Taking Up the Slack

Covina Argus

A New England farm philosopher of other days was wont to say that you could lead a calf on a long rope, but if you hitched him on a long tether he'd break his neck sooner or later.

He applied this to the desirability of letting young humans range wide, with as little restraint as possible inside of a given space that was good for them.

The United States government, through the eighteenth amendment, applied a restriction to the liquor business, but being wise, like the old New Englander, has been exercising the policy of holding the liquor business within as short a restraint as could be accomplished without running the risk of the whole country getting up in arms about it. The eighteenth amendment was the right thing; it had to be done; it was over, and theoretically with its passage the business of selling and drinking liquor ceased. But to stop it forthwith, even though the law said so and so, was not only an impossibility, but unwise. The government did not wink at the law, but many supposedly-law-abiding citizens did, and do. It was up to the government to stop the liquor traffic, but at the same time to keep the country from fomenting trouble. Therefore, the long rope was used at first, with the idea, no doubt, of shortening the length as the chance came to take a snub around a convenient tree or post.

The government has arrived at the place where it is taking up the slack. There may be many who wonder why it was that editorials in great newspapers all over the country suddenly bloomed out a few days ago, advocating the upholding of the constitution, and beginning a concerted drive against the bootlegger, silk stocking bootleggers included. Many have wondered why some great newspapers, known to have been disgruntled over the dry law, suddenly began to belch forth fire and brimstone against the drinker, the purveyor, the transporter and the one of guilty knowledge.

It was because a cabinet officer of President Harding called fifty-two editors and owners of big newspapers to Washington, and read a sort of polished riot act to them.

"You've got to quit poking fun at the constitution of the United States," he said. "Either you are for the eighteenth amendment or you are against the constitution. If the country is allowed to kill the eighteenth amendment the bootleggers will pick on another amendment and that one will have to go, and when we start down hill we are liable to gain a momentum that will carry this democracy into a place where the Russians are at the present time." And the heavy artillery of the press forthwith was trained on CHAPTER 284.

OLD MOTHER PIG COMES TO LIFE AGAIN.

By Harvey Elliott.

Now it was a little hard to know who the joke was really on—Bushy Squirrel or Johnny Jay. Bushy Squirrel thought Old Mother Pig was dead because he was expecting to find somebody dead and Old Mother Pig was the dearest looking person he could find. Then, after Bushy had told it to Johnny Jay, Johnny went, expecting to find Mother Pig dead and because he found her lying down he thought of course she must be dead.

Now Old Mother Pig was taking a big long snooze under the old apple tree. In fact, she is rather a lazy old thing anyway, and spends a good deal of her time sleeping when she ought to be out rooting for a living. Then Johnny Jay flies so fast that he had time to make two or three visits to the old orchard before Mother Pig awakened up.

"It's the first dead hog I ever saw," said Johnny Jay.

Johnny Jay screamed a little laugh at Bushy Squirrel's ignorance.

Little Benny's Note Book

By Lee Pope

I was mad at my sister Gladis for different reasons and the door bell rang and I went and it was a man with a basket full of spoils of thred and safety pins and ordinary dangerous pins and different things, saying, Is your mother in?

Wich jest then I had a good idee, saying, No but my sister is, do you want to see her?

Yes, Im not partickler, sed the man, and I sed, all rite, come on in the parlor and Ill call her.
